Guards Restore Peace To Chicago Area

TWO NATIONAL GUARDSMEN stood on alert early today in Chicago's West Side where racial violence has broken out on three successive nights. Gov. Otto Kerner called up more than 3,000 Guardsmen to patrol the area to prevent further trouble. (UPI Telephoto)

Harriman, Aiken Among Those Issuing Statements

Warnings Are Fired At Hanoi Rule Against Mistreatment Of Captives

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman publicly warned Hanoi today that mistreatment of U.S. captives "will change the whole feeling of the war" which, he said, up to now has not been aimed against the people of North Viet Nam.

In the strongest words yet issued by a Washington official concerning Red threats to try American prisoners as war criminals, Harriman said:

"North Viet Nam still indicates that they believe that the guerrillas in South Viet Nam had fallen through. Viet Cong representatives in Algiers had at one point indicated they would undertake such an exchange, he said. The prisoner is AID official Gustav Hertz.

On other points, Harriman said the North Vietnamese have refused to give any information about the number or names of the U.S. fliers imprisoned, believed to total 34 or more. Nor have they allowed the International Red Cross Committee access to the captives.

He added that Hanoi has refused to accept the International Red Cross Committee, headquartered in Geneva, as a protecting power.

Harriman's Voice of America interview was aired hours after Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., warned that if Hanoi carried out its threat to execute U.S. airmen "the American people will demand the complete destruction of North Viet Nam."

Aiken, who has criticized acceleration of the war, thus put into blunter words the carefully phrased warning of 18 self-styled Democratic "doves" Friday that such action by Hanoi "would provoke the greatest reprisals and further blacken the hope for peace."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who endorsed the statement by the 18, agreed generally with Aiken's appraisal of prospective public demands for retaliation.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, in a speech Friday at Fort Worth, Tex., also warned that the staging of trials would "set loose emotions very hard to control in this country."

"I can't think of anything that would be more dangerous than such a step," Humphrey told a news conference before making a speech at Texas Christian University.

"If the people in Hanoi have any sense at all," the vice president said, "I would think they would be very hesitant to take that step."

In an interview, Aiken blamed Moscow for encouraging the North Vietnamese to step up their resistance.

"No persons in the world wants to establish peace more than President Johnson," Aiken said. "The Soviets could help bring this matter to the conference table. But I fear they want to bog us down to the fullest extent in Viet Nam and put themselves in a position to attack us. The situation never looked worse in our efforts to head off a nuclear war."

Mansfield told the Senate he has not lost hope that the conflict will be settled at the conference table through negotiations. But he agreed with the 18, headed by Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, that U.S. prisoner executions would bring the war to "a peril point of no return."

Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., rose also to endorse the statement by the 18, which was signed by, among others,

Kremlin Says 'No' In Mrs. Gandhi's Bid

MOSCOW (AP) — India's prime minister ended a Moscow visit today with promises of a billion dollars worth of Soviet aid but a Kremlin refusal to follow her suggestions on trying to start Viet Nam peace talks.

Indira Gandhi told reporters before flying to New Delhi that Soviet leaders had told her they could agree to peace proposals only if North Viet Nam accepts them.

And Hanoi has not commented on her proposals, which include Soviet action in calling a peace conference in Geneva. Communist China has rejected her ideas.

Chairman J.W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee

Robert Kennedy said that regardless of anyone's opinion about the U.S. bombing of areas near Hanoi, execution of American prisoners would be "an intolerable act... of barbarism."

"I have dissented at many points from this war and its conduct," he said, "but I am at one with all Americans in regarding any reprisals against these young men and indirectly against their families as an intolerable act — contrary to the laws of war, contrary to all past practices in this war, a plunge into barbarism which could serve the interest of no man and no nation."

Edward Kennedy said he looks upon such threats "with the greatest possible degree of horror." He said Secretary of State Dean Rusk had voiced assurances that Viet Cong and North Vietnamese prisoners in the hands of the Saigon government are getting just treatment under International Red Cross supervision.

Communist dispatches from Hanoi have indicated that the trials may start July 20 or Aug. 4. There has been no official word, however, from the United States or from the government of North Viet Nam.

By JAMES E. DWYER
CHICAGO (AP) — Flying squads of impressively armed National Guardsmen and police restored relative peace today to the scarred streets of a West Side area ripped since Tuesday by racial violence.

Youthful gangs who had looted, burned and fired sniper-style from rooftops faded away Friday night as guardsmen — told to shoot to kill if fired upon — went on patrol.

Through the streets of a 140-square-block area rolled trucks loaded with soldiers, rifles at the ready, bayonets fixed; jeeps with machine guns mounted; police cars with shotguns poked out windows.

Knots of Negroes lined curbs in some areas, catcalling occasionally, but there were only scattered incidents: one reported sniper shooting, with police returning fire but finding no one; a fire bomb thrown into a street outside a home; a few store windows broken; several fires in houses and stores.

By midnight, police reported, streets were virtually deserted.

The calm contrasted dramatically with Thursday night, when an estimated 5,000 were abroad. Then, two Negroes were killed by gunshot and 30 were injured amid widespread shooting, looting and burning that continued into the day Friday.

Gov. Otto Kerner called up the Guard, 3,000 strong, Friday at the request of Mayor Richard J. Daley. The mayor said he felt police alone could not cope with the rioting, worst in the North since 34 were killed in massive rioting in Los Angeles last August.

Maj. Gen. Francis P. Kane held 1,500 troops in reserve and sent 1,500 into action, operating from a base in a parking lot. They teamed with 1,000 police.

"If anybody shoot, at my n.e.n." Gen. Kane told newsmen, "my orders are to shoot back — shoot to kill."

The word must have gotten around. Newsmen interviewing Negroes on the streets reported an attitude of fear among many — especially of the guardsmen. There was much comment about weapons.

And there were some who said the Guard will leave, soon, or later, and trouble will come anew.

"We can't cope with the stuff they got on those Guard trucks," a youth told a newsmen, "but we can cope with the police. As soon as those GIs go back, these cops are gonna make a mistake."

"We all gotta die some time, we'll fight," said another.

The trouble began Tuesday night when police turned off a fire hydrant spraying kids with water during a hot spell. A crowd gathered. Rocks flew. Violence began. There was more Wednesday night. Then the climax Thursday night and Friday during the day, with police reporting at one point they were unable to control the mobs.

Mayor Daley said that he blames the outbreak "in large measure" on aides of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., chairman of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. King and his staff have been confined to the hotel.

U.S. Planes Again Blast Cong Bases

3 More Oil Depots Hit As Record 121 Missions Are Made

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Wave after wave of U.S. planes pounded North Viet Nam Friday with a record 121 missions. They struck at three oil depots to keep up the intensified drive against the Hanoi government's fuel reserves and also attacked six missile sites.

Navy planes from the aircraft carrier Ranger evaded 10 Soviet-built surface-to-air missiles fired from a string of sites seven to 45 miles southeast of Hanoi.

In an attack on one of the sites, a Navy A4 Skyhawk jet was shot down by anti-aircraft fire, U.S. military headquarters said. The pilot bailed out but heavy flak prevented rescue helicopters from reaching him and he is listed as missing. Loss of the plane had been disclosed earlier.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported heavy losses to a 100-man company of government troops when they were hit by a "maneuvering ambush" of five times as many Viet Cong main force soldiers.

A Vietnamese spokesman said the company was hit Friday on Highway 13 — a favorite Viet Cong ambush route — at a point 18 miles northwest of Saigon.

The company had been assigned to provide security for a military supply convoy. After the last truck passed the company's area, the spokesman said, a Viet Cong force estimated at a reinforced battalion struck from both sides of the road.

Unofficial reports said most of the company was killed or wounded.

Elsewhere in South Viet Nam, both the U.S. and Vietnamese commands reported only small-scale fighting Friday.

However, two Viet Cong hit-and-run attacks were reported within eight miles of Saigon. In one, the Viet Cong blew up a bridge with mines eight miles south of the capital. In the other, a Viet Cong force of un-

'I Don't Get It'

Cabbie Questions Kids' Behavior

By AUSTIN SCOTT and HOLLY WEST
CHICAGO (AP) — "I don't get it," said the Negro cab driver as he threatened his hack among shards of glass littering streets in the West Side district torn by nights of rioting.

That just about summed up the statements of residents there. Most seem puzzled by the violence.

The cabbie, speaking of youths who spearheaded the looting, burning and shooting, added: "If I'm mad at you I'm going to get you, even if I have to sleep on your doorstep to do it. But I'm not going to do something that will lose up everybody. And that's what these kids are doing."

DOZENS of interviews during hours of walking the streets Friday night, as heavily armed National Guardsmen restored order, produced no pattern beyond this:

Most agree that the youngsters are angry. They disagree as to why. Virtually all feel that the appearance of the Guard prevented another night of violence.

Unlike the Los Angeles racial riots of 1965, cries of "Get whitey" or "Burn baby burn" were scarce during the Thursday-Friday peak outburst here.

There was no indication that any one cause — alleged police brutality, hate of white merchants, for instance — was the spark.

"You can't tell me it was racial," said Frank Banton, an aging white merchant who kept plate glass windows in two stores intact despite shattered glass in stores all around him.

"This Negro guy I know helped me put up plywood to protect my windows," he said. "I didn't ask him. He volunteered. Then later I saw him running down the street bustin' that window and the one over there."

HE POINTED to plywood panels covering shattered displays two doors away and across the street. "Now how do you figure that?"

"It wasn't racial," said a white store manager across the street, who had slept at his establishment to keep windows intact.

"I've talked to a lot of the guys today I saw running around last night. They don't hate me."

"They didn't have no purpose," said a Negro gasoline station attendant present throughout Thursday night's violence.

"Nobody organized it. One group would go through and smash windows and not take anything, and other group would come along and loot. One group started up on Roosevelt Road. Then word spread and another group got started on 16th Street, and another near 18th Street. It was both kids and adults."

Witnesses agreed that teenagers were involved. Many felt they started smashing windows and induced adults to join in later. Others believed adults goaded the youths into the spree of violence.

In contrast to the pattern in other riots, some Negroes laughed and joked with police as officers cruised by, five to a car, rifles and shotguns pointing skyward out windows.

But they showed great respect for National Guardsmen marching by, rifles at the ready.

"Willie, c'mon back here," shouted a mother from her second-floor window. "You don't want to get shot."

"Better quit that, man," said a Negro teen-ager to a friend who walked toward a patrolling guardsman. "They'll fill you full of holes."

In a crowded cafe two Negro men got into an argument. "The kids are doing it just for the hell of it," said one.

No, countered another. The whole thing was organized by people who want to see the black man go under. Something was funny about the whole thing, he said, but he didn't say what it was.

"This is awful," said one

Many Leads Checked In 8 Slayings

Chicago Detectives Confident They'll Nab Nurses' Killer

By JULES LOH

CHICAGO (AP) — An artist's sketch of the killer who slaughtered eight student nurses has brought a flood of new leads and a burst of new confidence to detectives determined to hunt the man down.

"We've been inundated with phone calls, tips and leads since we added the sketch to our description," said Michael Spiotto, deputy chief of detectives.

A police artist sketched the killer's face after closely questioning the only survivor of the town house massacre, who roused from heavy sedation Friday after the long night of horror.

Spiotto said the two-hour interview was eminently fruitful.

"Number one, we're confident we're going to get this guy," he said. "Number two, we know the girl can identify him."

The girl, Corazon Amurao, 23, filled in details missing from her first, hysterical account blurted out to police when she finally fled the blood-splattered house of death Thursday at dawn.

At least one mystery remained, however, and police shed no new light on it after the interview with Miss Amurao:

Why were there no loud screams, no outcries for help, during the time the killer bound and gagged the nine girls, herded them into a back room, and led eight of them out one at a time to their deaths?

"There were some light outcries by the girls who came in (Turn to SLAYINGS, Page 2)

Ferrese Gets 12 Years For Stock Frauds

James Ferrese, 39, of New Castle has been sentenced to 12 years in prison on six counts of using counterfeit stock securities to defraud six area banks — including three in Columbiana County — of $225,000 in loans last year.

The decision was handed down Friday afternoon at Cleveland by U.S. District Court Judge Frank J. Battisti. Battisti sentenced Ferrese to two years on each count.

Ferrese, who had strip mine operations in the Guilford Lake area, pleaded guilty to each count in February after he was arrested early last year.

He also has pleaded guilty to two additional counts of using counterfeit stock securities to obtain loans totaling $80,000 from banks in the Sharon and New Castle areas. Ferrese also is under indictment for defrauding a Merritt Island (Fla.) bank of $75,000 by using the same methods.

The banks in the area included the West Side branch of the Dollar Savings and Trust Co. at Youngstown; Farmer's National Bank in Canfield; a branch of the Union National Bank in Poland; the Union Banking Co. in Columbiana; the First National Bank in East Palestine.

Lock On Door Opened

Police Search For Youth In Wellsville Jail Break

Area police today continued the search for a 19-year-old East Liverpool youth who apparently was aided in an escape Friday evening from the Wellsville City Hall detention room, where he had been placed following an auto accident.

Wellsville police said David Coleman of 319½ Broadway was arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol following the accident at 5:15 p.m. on Broadway, Wellsville.

Coleman was taken to the detention room, on the second floor of City Hall, to be held while Patrolman Robert Wellington completed the investigation and had the wrecker remove Coleman's car from the scene.

When the officer returned to City Hall about an hour later, the lock had been removed from the outside of the door and Coleman was gone, according to Police Chief John Hephner.

Hephner said someone had released Coleman because it is impossible to reach the lock from inside the detention room. The door is secured from the outside with a heavy latch and padlock.

There is one mark on the lock, indicating it may have been pried open or picked, the chief said.

Coleman, driving a car owned by R. W. Nelson of East Liverpool, had the rear of a parked car owned by Joann Crawford of 610 Broadway. The Crawford car was knocked 13 feet by the impact, police said.

Coleman is 5-foot, 7 inches, weighs 160 and has black wavy hair. He was wearing dark trousers and construction work boots. He did not have a shirt, police said.

17 Arrested In Drinking By Juveniles

Thirteen youths and four teen-agers were apprehended by Beaver police in an underage drinking party in cars adjacent to the Beaver sewage disposal plant along the Ohio River Friday night.

Six young men charged with liquor law violations were in Beaver County Jail today and two of the juveniles were in Allencrest Detention Home from which they were on probation.

The young men cited were James E. Gantz, 18, and Charles W. McKee, 18, of Monaca; Arthur Wheeler, 19, of New Brighton; Paul L. Summers, 18, of West Bridgewater; David J. Schooley, 20, of New Brighton; R. D. I. James A. Reizer, 19, of Unionville; and James E. Leist, 21, of Rochester.

School Head Talks To Club At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — John J. Grusznick, director of the Columbiana County School for Retarded Children, was guest speaker during the monthly dinner meeting of the Salineville Burners Club Wednesday at the Elementary School cafeteria. Twenty-nine were present.

He outlined and explained the various phases of the school program and exhibited some of the materials processed in the sheltered workshop. He said that the architect's plans for the erection of the new school in the county have been inspected and details explained.

Freeman A. Strahan, president, was in charge of the meeting at which time a contribution of $25 was made to the Southern Local Athletic Bowlers Club to assist in the purchasing of a new scoreboard for the football field.

Money was appropriated for the supplying and erection of suitable identification signs on the highways at the corporation limits of Salineville.

Jay Carter and Kenneth Burges were program chairman. The dinner was served by the Southern Local Band Boosters Association.

The next meeting will be Aug. 18.

More Planes Pressed Into Use By CAB

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board moving to ease monumental air traffic jams across the nation has authorized 13 supplemental airlines to fly nearly 100 routes of the five struck carriers.

The CAB's action Friday night came as union and management negotiations were reported to be no nearer a settlement than they were a week ago. They meet again today.

A CAB spokesman said the supplemental—those airlines that usually fly charter and non-scheduled flights—will begin accepting reservations immediately for most of the nation's heavily traveled major air routes including coast to coast flights.

The CAB specifically granted the supplemental airlines authority to handle those flights for the next 30 days that are not now being handled by the non-scheduled airlines. It reserved, however, the right to amend or cancel the authority without a hearing.

In the North Viet Nam raids a U. S. spokesman said American planes knocked out at least two of the six missile sites attacked. One was 25 miles north-east of Hanoi and the other about 18 miles southeast of the North Vietnamese capital.

In the strikes against oil depots, Navy planes from the carrier Oriskany plattered 500-pound bombs on a fuel storage area and shipment point two miles southeast of the city of Vinh.

The Navy said a column of heavy trucks rose 1,000 feet and prevented trucks from getting a full damage assessment.

Other Navy planes from the carrier Ranger attacked a fuel storage area near Thanh Hoa, apparently with only partial success. Pilots reported their 500-pound bombs and five-inch 20mm rockets heavily damaged two large storage buildings but saw no fires or explosions to indicate hits on fuel supplies.

Police Recover Car Taken From Vine St.

Police today recovered a 1964 model blue-green Chevrolet Impala two-door hardtop which Lawrence J. McGarrity of 406 Vine St. reported stolen from a parking place at his home between midnight Thursday and 11:30 a. m. Friday.

The car was found on Morton St. at 4:44 a. m. today by Patrolman Paul Lemke.

McGarrity filed the theft report at 1:30 p. m. Friday. The car carries Ohio license L-10225-C. Property in the car at the time of the theft included a bicycle and lawn chairs, he said.

Meanwhile, Jessie Long of 225 W. 18th St. told the department Friday about noon a license plate L-1025-V was stolen from the rear of his auto Thursday night or Friday morning.

Bond Of $1,000 Met In Burglary Charge

Bond of $1,000 was made by Eugene C. Hughes of 225 W. 7th St. after it was set Friday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard at Lunson.

Hughes was bound over to the September Grand Jury Wednesday from Municipal Court here. He pleaded not guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chrenoff to a charge of burglary July 14 of the C. & J. Motor Sales office at E. 8th and Jefferson Sts.

Hearing Planned Next Thursday In Wellsville Case

LISBON — James Eugene Deen, 26 of 1847 Main St., Wellsville, asked for a preliminary hearing Friday when he pleaded not guilty in Columbiana County Southwest Court to a charge of breaking into Platts Market, Wellsville, last Sunday night.

Acting Judge Richard D. Kennedy set the hearing for 1:30 p. m. Thursday. Deen is in the County Jail at bond of $1,000.

Three drivers were fined $50 and costs each yesterday by Kennedy. Delmaris J. White, 18 of Kensington, operating a motorcycle without a muffler. New Legislation Due At Council's Session

Only two major pieces of new legislation will be presented to City Council at its one regular session for July Monday night at 8.

Council will act on an ordinance to release an easement which was obtained at one time for a water line project, but never used. It also will consider a resolution authorizing payment of a claim against the city.

Under the summer rules, Monday night's session will be the only regular meeting in July. Except in June, July and August, Council meets twice a month. The next regular meeting will be Aug. 15.

Sheriff Investigates Phone Cable Shooting

NEW WATERSFORD — An Ohio Bell Telephone Co. repair crew worked all night repairing a New Watersford area break, which officials termed deliberate.

The site office at Salient reported a head-covered cable carrying 50 lines along Millbrook Rd. was virtually severed about 1:45 p. m. Friday by a high-voltage bolt.

Ohio Bell men said that is the fourth instance of a cable breaking in this area in recent weeks. The sheriff's office is investigating.

Final Choice Due Tonight On Miss Ohio

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—The finalists will be named tonight in the Miss Ohio Pageant.

The finalists will be named by a five-judge panel, then the final will be out to live, and finally the judges will choose the girl to represent Ohio in the Miss America contest in Atlantic City, N.J.

Winners in Friday night's competition were Miss Cincinnati, Vicki Elizabeth Andrews, 22, swim suit, and Miss Heart of Ohio, Sharon Elaine Philbin, 21, of Delaware, talent.

Miss Philbin drew a tremendous response singing a medley of songs that end with "This Is My Country."

Miss Philbin started the medley wearing an evening gown, but as she started the final song, she pulled away the evening gown and revealed a dress designed to resemble the American flag.

Area Doctor Hurt By Auto

A Salineville physician, apparently struck by an auto in Salineville Friday night, was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital.

Dr. Claude A. McDouglough, 71, of 111 W. Main St., suffered bruises of the left thigh and abrasions of the knees and right forearm in the mishap on E. Main St. about 10:40 p. m.

Police Chief Ray Keister, who said the case is still under investigation, reported the mishap involved a 1966 sports auto operated by Mike Jones, 22, of Salineville R.D.

The physician was near or getting into his auto when the incident occurred, Keister said.

late but it wasn't much." Spoke to said Miss Amurao told him.

An autopsy report showed the girl had not been strapped to prevent screams. Three of them arrived home after the killer had already battered the other at the rear room.

Spoke said he believed the killer was no stranger to the area of the town house, which served as a dormitory for the student nurses in training at a hospital about a mile away.

Miss Amurao told police she never had seen the man before.

The autopsy report produced no evidence any of the victims had been strangled sexually, according to Coroner Andrew J. Toman. He said laboratory tests for conclusive findings would be available Wednesday.

All the same, police showed Miss Amurao photographs of about 200 sex offenders. She did not identify any of them. Spoke said he added, "There are a few individuals we are very much interested in — some more than others."

The student drawn from Miss Amurao's description shows a crew-cut young man with high cheekbones, aquiline nose, jutting chin, narrow-set eyes, bushy brows of medium thickness, and thin lips. She said he definitely was a white man and that his hair was "somewhere between blond and black."

Spoke said the sketch had triggered scores of leads.

He said his staff of 40 working around the clock with lists of names, plus 40 more detectives from other departments were checking out more than 100 tips. Many were from other parts of the country.

Spoke worked without sleep from 4:30 a. m. Thursday until 11 p. m. Friday — leaving word to be called at home if there was an important development.

Detectives had picked up about 50 suspects for questioning. None pointed out.

Laboratory technicians were checking about 100 fingerprints lifted from the town house. They had to be sorted from the victims' own fingerprints and those of their frequent visitors.

Chicago's crime lab staff also was sifting possible evidence from eight plastic bags of effects taken from the house — blood-stained socks, clothing and the like.

during a civil rights drive in Chicago.

Said Daley: "Surely some of the people that came in here have been talking for the last year of violence and showing pictures and instructing people it how to conduct violence. They're at the King's death."

Said King: "It is unfortunate that one in such a high position of authority as the mayor of Chicago should perpetrate such a falsehood."

King said he believes the National Guard callup was necessary.

Daley and King met Friday and agreed on several moves aimed at reducing tensions, including fire hydrants with sprinklers so citizens can cool off in hot weather, requesting federal funds for swimming pools and other recreational facilities in Negro areas, appointment of a citizen's committee to recommend changes in police procedures, appointment of political precinct workers to walk streets urging an end to violence, equal access to public swimming pools for all persons.

A University of Chicago sociologist, Morris L. Janowitz, discussing the outbreak with an interviewer gave this analysis: "The Chicago and other Negro riots of recent times are different from those of past years 'because they occur in a period when the situation of the Negro is improving.'"

The young insurrectionists are the ones left behind in a revolution of rising expectations. They attack the symbols rather than the persons of the white majority, Janowitz said.

Then he said: "It is not within the capacity of the police to deal with these problems because we have permitted wide distribution of arms unlike every other civilized country in the world."

He urged a three-week amnesty in which citizens be urged to turn in their guns.

The area into which guardsmen rolled last 4 miles west of the Loop business district — a rectangle 28 blocks long — includes ramshackle slums, high rise public housing and such places as the big new West Side Medical Center and the new University of Illinois Chicago Circle campus.

Most businesses in the area were shut down when the Guard came in. "While shop owners boarded windows, Negro merchants, hoping to avoid looting or burning, posted signs saying 'Soul Brother' or 'Owned by Your Brother'."

Assembly was high at businesses in the violence zone. Buses for a time avoided it.

Thirty-eight Negroes were arrested Friday compared to more than 200 Thursday.

These were some of the comments at the troops' rally.

"Mat' look at those police, it awwd tones from a Negro youth."

"They ain't scaring nobody."

"This ain't Viet Nam. This is Chicago. We're just American Negroes. We want our freedom, but we ain't got it. If we had it there wouldn't be all of this."

From another youth: "We gotta do some more to pay back for those two lives." The reference was to a Negro man and a 14-year-old Negro girl killed early Friday by shots from unknown guns.

Said a middle-aged Negro barber: "I think the Guard should have been here Thursday night."

For guardsmen, it was the second mobilization in less than a year. Last August they were called up to quell disturbances in a nearby area of the West Side.

James R. Dickey, 35, of East Liverpool, had been charged with speeding and Andrew M. Clark, 34, of New Cumberland, with having an expired inspection sticker.

Lions Given Highlights Of Convention

Highlights of the 40th annual Lions International Convention at New York City last week were reviewed by George McCullough and Richard Walker, members of the local club, during the Lions luncheon meeting Friday at the Travelers Hotel.

Featured speakers at the convention were John V. Lindsay, mayor of New York, who presented the welcoming address, Lawrence F. O'Brien, U.S. postmaster general, Edward M. Lindsay, president of Lions International, Bruce C. Clarke, retired general, and Victor Burke, who gave an impromptu talk after receiving a CARE award.

A proposed "Search For Peace" international $25,000 scholarship project was discussed during the gathering, as well as eyesight conservation activities.

During the four-day stay, the Ohio delegation toured the main attractions of New York City, attended shows and took a boat ride.

New Fireman Begins Duties

Lewis Edward Hood, 36, of 3024 Ohio Ave., appointed to the fire department Friday afternoon by Salery - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, reported for duty at Central Station at 8 a. m. today.

Hood formerly was employed as a presser at the Loutan Plant of the Fero Corp. in East End. He replaced Fireman John Bromley, who retired a few weeks ago, the director explained.

The post pays $400 monthly for the first six months, then the salary automatically advances to $440.

Hood is married and the father of two daughters. A native of East Liverpool, he is a son of Mrs. James Hood of 1925 Michigan Ave.

The director named Hood from a three-man list certified by the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

The department still has one vacancy. Another that must be filled to take the place vacated by the recent retirement of Det. Manning.

Vodrey said he already has sent a personnel requisition to the Civil Service Commission requesting certification of names of prospective appointees. The commission has scheduled an examination Aug. 1 to 7 p. m. at City Hall to draw up a new eligibility list.

The deadline for applications will fall Friday, July 22, at 4:30 p. m.

School Head Talks To Club At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — John J. Grunstein, director of the Columbiana County School for Retarded Children, was guest speaker during the monthly dinner meeting of the Salineville Burnian Club Wednesday at the Elementary School cafeteria. Twenty-nine were present.

He outlined and explained the various phases of the school program and exhibited some of the materials processed in the sheltered workshop. He said that the architect's plans for the erection of the new school in the county have been inspected and details explained.

Frederick A. Stratney, president, was in charge of the meeting at which time a contribution of $25 was made to the Southern Local Athletic Boosters Club to assist in the purchasing of a new scoreboard for the football field.

Money was appropriated for the supplying and erection of roadside identification signs on the highway at the corporate limits of Salineville.

Jay Carter and Kenneth Burpee were program chairman. The dinner was served by the Southern Local Band Boosters Association.

The next meeting will be Aug. 18.

More Planes Pressed Into Use By CAB

WASHINGTON, AP — The Civil Aeronautics Board, moving to ease monumental air traffic jams across the nation, has authorized 13 supplemental airlines to fly nearly 100 routes of the five trunk carriers.

The CAB's action Friday night came as union and management negotiations were reported to be no nearer a settlement than they were a week ago. They meet again today.

A CAB spokesman said the supplemental airlines—those that usually fly charter and non-scheduled flights—will begin accepting reservations immediately for most of the nation's heavily traveled major air routes, including coast-to-coast flights.

The CAB specifically granted the supplemental airlines authority to handle those flights for the next 30 days that are not now being handled by the non-scheduled airlines. It reserved, however, the right to amend or cancel the authority without a hearing.

In the North Viet Nam raids a U. S. spokesman said American planes knocked out at least two of the six missile sites attacked. One was 25 miles north-west of Hanoi and the other about 18 miles southeast of the North Vietnamese capital.

In the strikes against oil depots, Navy planes from the carrier Oriskany blasted 300-pound bombs on a fuel storage area and shrapnel from two miles southeast of the city of Vinh.

The Navy said a column of heavy trucks rose 1,000 feet and prevented pilots from getting a full damage assessment.

Other Navy planes, from the carrier Ranger, attacked a fuel storage area near Thanh Hoa, apparently with only partial success. Pilots reported they saw 250-pound bombs and five-inch Zuni rockets heavily damaged two large storage buildings, but saw no fires or explosions to indicate hits on fuel supplies.

"You can't tell them (the men) anything. The men were out all night last night." She clenched her fist for emphasis. "All night, and look what happened."

Several hours later, a lone youth swaggered down a street when guardians had at one time sealed off. "You can't see nothing yet," he told newsmen. "Wait till the Guard gets out here."

But for a Negro neighborhood torn by violence, just the day before, his refrain was strangely alone.

Cigarettes And Candy Taken From Market

Mrs. Paul Kiewall, daughter of owner C. M. Hinton, reported the burglary at 1:30 a. m. She said she heard a noise from the market across the highway and saw a car drive away.

Sheriff's Deputy Dave Brothers said someone forced a padlock on the side door to gain entrance.

LISBON — Wesley W. Crobaugh, 90, of 329 Maple St. Lisbon, forfeited a $15 appearance bond Friday in mayor's court on a charge of failure to stop at an assured clear distance.

Final Choice Due Tonight On Miss Ohio

SANDUSKY, Ohio, AP — Ten finalists will be named tonight in the Miss Ohio Pageant.

The finalists will be named to a five-judge panel, then the third will be cut in five, and finally the judges will choose the girl to represent Ohio in the Miss America contest in Atlantic City, N. J.

Winners in Friday night's competition were Miss Cincinnati, Vicki Elizabeth Andrews, 22, swim star, and Miss Beavertown, Sharon Elaine Philbin, 21, of Delaware, talent.

Miss Philbin drew a tremendous response singing a medley of songs that end with "This Is My Country."

Miss Philbin started the medley wearing an evening gown, but as she started the final song, she pulled away the evening gown and revealed a dress designed to resemble the American flag.

Area Doctor Hurt By Auto

A Salineville physician, apparently struck by an auto in Salineville Friday night, was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital.

Dr. Claude A. McCullough, 71, of 111 W. Main St. suffered bruises of the left thigh and abrasions of the knees and right forearm in the mishap on E. Main St. about 10:40 p. m.

Police Chief Ray Keiser, who said the case is still under investigation, reported the mishap involved a 1964 sports auto operated by Mike Jones, 22, of Salineville R.D.

The physician was near or getting into his auto when the incident occurred, Keiser said.

late, but it wasn't much." Spence said Miss Amurao told him.

An autopsy report showed the girl had not been drugged to prevent screams. Three of them arrived home after the killing had already passed the other side into the rear room.

Spence said he believed the killer was no stranger to the area of the town house, which served as a dormitory for the student nurses in training at a hospital about a mile away.

Miss Amurao told police she never had seen the man before.

The autopsy report produced no evidence any of the victims had been sexually abused, according to Coroner Andrew J. Toman. He said laboratory tests for conclusive findings would be available Wednesday.

All the same, police showed Miss Amurao photographs of about 200 sex offenders. She did not identify any of them. Spence said, but he added, "There are a few individuals we are very much interested in — some more than others."

The student driver from Miss Amurao's description shows a crew-cut young man with light cheeks, aquiline nose, jutting chin, narrow-set eyes, bushy brows of medium thickness, and thin lips. She said he definitely was a white man and that his hair was "somewhere between blond and black."

Spence said the victim had triggered scores of leads.

He said his staff of 40 working around the clock with days off canceled, plus 40 more detectives from other departments were checking out more than 100 tips. Many were from other parts of the country.

Spence worked without sleep from 4:30 a. m. Thursday until 11 p. m. Friday — leaving word to be called at home if there was an important development.

Detectives had picked up about 50 suspects for questioning. None pointed out.

Laboratory technicians were checking about 100 fingerprints lifted from the town house. They had to be sorted from the victims' own fingerprints and those of their frequent visitors.

Chicago's crime lab staff also was sifting possible evidence from eight plastic bags of effects taken from the house — blood-stained sheets, clothing and the like.

during a civil rights drive in Chicago.

Said Daley: "Surely some of the people that came in here have been talking for the last year of violence and showing pictures and instigating people to now to conduct violence. They're at his (King's) head."

Said King: "It is unfortunate that one in such a high position of authority as the mayor of Chicago should perpetrate such a falsehood."

King said he believed the National Guard callup was necessary.

Daley and King met Friday and agreed on several moves aimed at reducing tensions, including fire hydrants with sprinklers so citizens can cool off in hot weather, requesting federal funds for swimming pools and other recreational facilities in Negro areas, appointment of a citizen's committee to recommend changes in police procedures, appointment of political precinct workers to walk streets urging an end to violence, equal access to public swimming pools for all persons.

A University of Chicago sociologist, Morris L. Janowitz, discussing the outbreak with an interviewer, gave this analysis:

The Chicago and other Negro riots of recent times are different from those of past years "because they occur in a period when the situation of the Negro is improving."

"The young insurrectionists are the ones left behind in a revolution of rising expectations. They attack the symbols rather than the persons of the white majority," Janowitz said.

Then he said: "It is not within the capacity of the police to deal with these problems because we have permitted wide distribution of arms, unlike every other civilized country in the world."

He urged a three-week amnesty in which citizens be urged to turn in their guns.

The area into which guardsmen rolled 300 4 miles west of the Loop business district — a rectangle 2 1/2 blocks long. It includes ramshackle slums, high rise public housing and such places as the big new West Side Medical Center and the new University of Illinois Chicago Circle campus.

Most businesses in the area were shut down when the Guard came in. While some owners boarded windows, Negro merchants, hoping to avoid looting or burning, posted signs saying "Soul Brother" or "Owned by Your Brother."

Abolitionism was high at bus-stops in the violence zone. Buses for a time avoided it.

Thirty-eight Negroes were arrested Friday compared to more than 200 Thursday.

These were some of the comments as the troops rolled in.

"Man, look at those guns," it was heard from a Negro youth.

"They ain't scoring nobody," defiantly from another youth.

"This ain't Viet Nam. This is Chicago. We're just American Negroes. We want our freedom, but we ain't got it. If we had it there wouldn't be all of this."

From another youth: "We gotta do some more to pay back for those two lives." The reference was to a Negro man and a 14-year-old Negro girl killed early Friday by shots from unknown guns.

Said a middle-aged Negro barber: "I think the Guard should have been here Thursday night."

For guardians, it was the second mobilization in less than a year. Last August they were called up to quell disturbances in a nearby area of the West Side.

New Fireman Begins Duties

Lewis Edward Hood, 26, of 204 Ohio Ave., appointed to the fire department Friday afternoon by Safety Service Director Robert E. Vidrey, reported for duty at Central Station at 1 a. m. today.

Hood formerly was employed as a presser at the Louthan Plant of the Fero Corp. in East End. He replaces Fireman John Brumby, who retired a few weeks ago. The director explained.

The post pays $400 monthly for the first six months, then the salary automatically advances to $440.

Hood is married and the father of two daughters. A native of East Liverpool, he is a son of Mrs. James Hood of 1925 Michigan Ave.

The director named Hood from a three-man list certified by the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

The department still has one vacancy. Another man must be named to take the place vacated by the recent retirement of Delmar Manning.

Vidrey said he already has sent a personnel requisition to the Civil Service Commission requesting certification of names of prospective appointees. The commission has scheduled an examination Aug. 10 at 10 a. m. at City Hall to draw up a new eligibility list.

The deadline for applications will fall Friday, July 23, at 4:30 p. m.

Mishap Here Injures Man

A 41-year-old Northside man was hospitalized with injuries received when a motorbike he was riding collided with a car Friday at 6:01 p. m. at the intersection of Parkway and Elysian Way.

Police said the accident involved the motorbike operated by Billy Ray Steele of 918 Columbia Ave. and a 1963 sedan driven by Ben Timmons, 63 of 1710 Etruria St.

Steele was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with abrasions of the left foot, leg and shoulder and a severe laceration of the left knee suffered in the mishap.

Timmons told Patrolman L.E. Richard, who investigated, that he was turning left from Parkway onto Elysian Way and did not see Steele because the sun was in his eyes.

Steele told police he saw the car, but assumed it would stop. He said he could not stop in time to avoid a collision when he realized the car was not going to halt.

No one was injured in two other accidents investigated Friday by police.

Cars operated by Dale E. Craven, 18, of 1861 Idaho Ave. and Gary L. Roberts, 69, of 2216 Harvey Ave. figured in a crash at 11:13 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. near Rogers Drive-in.

Patrolman Jack Strobel said Craven halted to make a left turn into the drive-in and was struck in the rear by Roberts' car.

The Craven car, owned by Harvey D. Craven of 1861 Idaho, suffered damage to the rear bumper. The left front of the Roberts car was damaged.

A 1964 sedan operated by Mrs. Audrey F. Hoyt, 35, wife of Donald Hoyt of 208 Vernia St., and a 1962 tanker truck, owned by the Wallover Oil Co. of Virginia Ave. and driven by Carl J. Anderson, 29, of 1714 Allison St., were involved in a collision on Pennsylvania Ave. at Flint Alley Friday at 5:24 p. m.

Mrs. Hoyt said the truck pulled from a service station into her path. She said she attempted to pass, but was forced into the side of the truck by oncoming traffic. The right side of the car was damaged. The truck was not damaged.

Patrolman S. E. Hayes investigated.

Weinman Sets Up Preliminaries In Sheppard's Trial

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A federal judge has set up preliminaries for Dr. Samuel Sheppard's second trial for the murder of his first wife 12 years ago.

Judge Carl A. Weinman returned the murder case to the state of Ohio Friday and set procedures for bringing Sheppard to trial.

Weinman told Sheppard's counsel and Cuyahoga County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan to appear in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court Sept. 8 for trial arrangements, including the setting of bond.

The action resulted from a U.S. Supreme Court decree that the former Bay Village osteopath must be freed if not tried "within a reasonable time."

Sheppard's attorney, F. Lee Bailey of Boston, said he would seek a change of venue Sept. 8, but did not say which county his request will name.

Bailey and Corrigan both met with Weinman in Dayton Friday.

Sheppard's $10,000 federal bond was ordered canceled effective the date of the Sept. 8 pretrial hearing.

An order from Weinman in 1964 freed Sheppard from Ohio Penitentiary. Sheppard maintained in a habeas corpus petition that widespread publicity prevented him from receiving a fair trial.

Dissenting Statements Filed In House Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional opponents of the House's compromise open housing provision say the proposal — the most controversial of the administration's omnibus civil rights bill — is far stronger than originally believed.

The provision, adopted by the House Judiciary Committee as a substitute for a wider-ranging administration proposal, is aimed primarily at real estate agents and others in the housing industry. The rights bill comes before the House July 25.

Rep. Charles M. Mathias Jr., R-Md., author of the housing compromise, has said it would exempt most individual homeowners and any real estate agent representing an exempt owner.

That interpretation was attacked Friday by other Republicans on the Judiciary Committee in a series of dissenting statements added to the majority report on the bill, which was filed July 8.

However, the supplemental report also contained an endorsement of the provision by Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, the committee's senior Republican and the party's leading House spokesman on civil rights legislation.

McCulloch joined with Mathias in a statement saying that besides opening new tract housing and large apartments to Negroes, the proposal would proclaim "a national moral standard" that should help achieve progress in housing equality. They ignored the challenges to their interpretation of the provision.

In another statement, Reps. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., and William C. Cramer, R-Fla., said the language of the proposal failed to support Mathias' views.

A homeowner would be exempt only if he sold or rented his house himself without using a real estate agent, they said. And a real estate agent would be barred in all cases from participating in a transaction involving discrimination, they added.

A similar view was voiced by Rep. William T. Cahill, R-N.J., who said the Mathias proposal "simply does not live up to claims made for its operation before it was voted on and to the press thereafter."

Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr., R-W.Va., agreed with his colleagues and called Mathias' substitute a hypocritical proposal and "a political play."

The splintering of Republican support for the compromise indicated it faces severe trouble when it comes to the House as part of the rights bill. Other sections of the bill are not in serious controversy.

The bill's backers said, however, they feel the support of McCulloch will rally enough Republicans to keep the housing provision in the bill. McCulloch, who helped put earlier civil rights bills through the House, commands wide respect among members of both parties.

The Mathias proposal also was attacked in the Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee Friday as being "more oppressive" than the original proposal in the administration bill.

Alan L. Emlen of Philadelphia, testifying Friday for the National Association of Real Estate Boards, told the senators the revision would not do what its backers claimed.

The new version, he said, "is primarily directed against real estate brokers and their salesmen and persons in the business of building, developing, selling, renting or leasing dwellings."

Emlen said that despite what Mathias has told newsmen, there is nothing in the amendment to exempt a real estate broker if he is instructed by a home owner not to sell or rent to a Negro.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., a member of the subcommittee, described Emlen's testimony as "grossly inaccurate" and said he rarely had heard "a distortion of any piece of legislation such as your testimony."

Drivers Unhurt In Area Mishaps

A Lisbon driver escaped injury in one of two area collisions investigated Friday by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Calvin D. Rice, 22, of N. Beaver St., Lisbon, was headed west on Route 30 yesterday afternoon when his convertible struck a pickup truck operated by Clarence Stewart, 74, of Minerva at the intersection with Route 172 west of Lisbon.

The patrol said Stewart was on Route 172 and pulled into the path of the auto. The truck was extensively damaged and Stewart was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

No one was hurt in a collision of two cars on Route 170 at the intersection with former Route 30 yesterday afternoon, officers said.

John Smith, 24, of Newton Falls was headed south on Route 170 when his auto struck one driven by Edith Engelhard, 65, of Ravenna who had pulled from County Rd. 447 onto Route 170. There was slight damage to both vehicles, officers said.

Man's Cited, Not Woman

Misinterpreting a highway patrol report, The Review erred in its presentation of an area accident in Friday's paper.

The case involved a car driven by Mrs. Andrea Jean Leatherberry, 22, of Salineville R.D. 3 and a road grader operated by Tucker William Gibson, 51, of East Springfield.

Yesterday's story incorrectly said that Mrs. Leatherberry was cited for driving left of center. It was Gibson who was cited instead on the charge.

It also was reported incorrectly that Mrs. Leatherberry's car struck the grader. Instead, the grader struck her car.

Mrs. Leatherberry and her daughter, Denien, 2, were injured in the accident.

Pottery Union's Delegates Begin Trip To Florida

About 200 delegates are en route from many parts of the United States and Canada to Miami Beach, Fla., where the 72nd annual convention of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters will open Monday morning at 9.

The sessions at the Carillon Hotel are expected to continue through Friday or Saturday. One of the final acts will be selection of the 1967 convention city.

E. L. Wheatley, international president, will conduct the sessions. The first day's program will be taken up primarily with official welcomes to the resort city, drafting of rules and announcement of the appointment of standing committees.

Thirty-five resolutions will appear in the printed program, most of them concerned with internal affairs of the union. Officials of the AFL-CIO and other national labor organizations have been invited to speak.

Convention committees will meet each morning until their duties have been completed. The full convention will be in session each afternoon.

Until a few years ago, the convention drafted demands to be presented to management in wage negotiations. That task now has been taken over by Wage Policy Committees.

3 Fined At Chester On Traffic Charges

Three motorists were fined $25 and costs each by Mayor Burton G. Ward of Chester Friday night after being cited on traffic violation charges.

Fined were Donald Knox of Fairview Rd., Chester, for an expired inspection sticker; Jack Reynolds of Louisiana Ave., Chester, for not having a city driver's license, and Jon Yergin of Newell, for not having a state driver's license.

The case of Robert Graham of Louisiana Ave., Chester, charged with not having a city driver's license, was continued until Monday night.

Wellsville Advances Water, Sewage Plans

Recommendations on supplying water and sewage services to outlying districts were outlined to Wellsville City Council in a caucus session Friday night with representatives of an engineering firm that made a survey of water and sewage problems in Columbiana County for the county commissioners.

William McKenna, an engineer with Quicksall & Associates of New Philadelphia, outlined the findings of the survey relative to the outlying districts of Wellsville.

It was suggested that the city sell water to the county for the outlying districts. Extension of lines also was discussed.

It has been suggested previously that Wellsville extend its water and sewage lines to Russell Heights, Hillcrest and 18th St. Heights.

McKenna said the city is fortunate that the Highlandtown Lake impoundment is located where it is, with the water draining from the lake feeding into the city's reservoir.

Sherman Quigley, who is in charge of planning for the commissioners, also attended the meeting.

A letter will be sent Council asking that a resolution of intent to cooperate in the program be adopted to advance the plans.

Council will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Suspect Charged In Robbery Case

A 34-year-old Rochester man was lodged in Beaver County Jail today charged with the strong-armed robbery of a Fallston man Thursday in North Sewickley Township.

Pennsylvania state police at the Chippewa Barracks arrested Albert R. Coffey of 9 White St., Rochester, in connection with the $249 robbery of Joseph Zimmerman of Fallston.

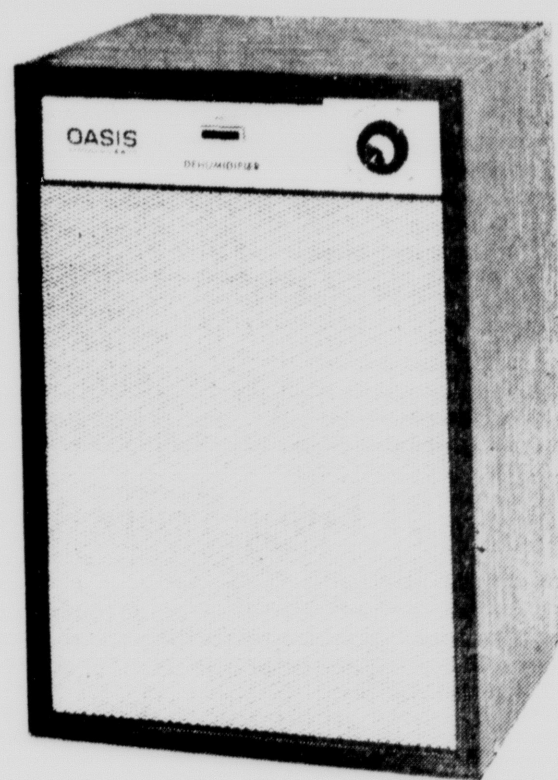

Zimmerman told officers Thursday a man had taken the money from him after driving him in an auto on the pretense of transporting him to Beaver Falls.

Coffey was arraigned before Darlington Township Justice of the Peace Ross Keffer on a charge of robbery with assault and is due a hearing later.

Murder And Suicide

CLEVELAND (AP)—Euclid police said the deaths Friday of Cleveland policeman John J. Nick Jr., 39, and his 34-year-old wife apparently were a suicide and a murder.

Nick and his wife were found shot to death in the kitchen of their upstairs apartment.

A 41-year-old Northside man was hospitalized with injuries received when a motorbike he was riding collided with a car Friday at 6:01 p. m. at the intersection of Parkway and Elysian Way.

Police said the accident involved the motorbike operated by Billy Ray Steele of 918 Columbia Ave. and a 1963 sedan driven by Ben Timmons, 63, of 1710 Etruria St.

Steele was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with abrasions of the left foot, leg and shoulder and a severe laceration of the left knee suffered in the mishap.

Timmons told Patrolman L.E. Richard, who investigated, that he was turning left from Parkway onto Elysian Way and did not see Steele because the sun was in his eyes.

Steele told police he saw the car, but assumed it would stop. He said he could not stop in time to avoid a collision when he realized the car was not going to halt.

No one was injured in two other accidents investigated Friday by police.

Cars operated by Dale E. Craven, 18, of 1861 Idaho Ave. and Gary L. Roberts, 69, of 2216 Harvey Ave. figured in a crash at 11:13 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. near Rogers Drive-in.

Patrolman Jack Strobel said Craven halted to make a left turn into the drive-in and was struck in the rear by Roberts' car.

The Craven car, owned by Harvey D. Craven of 1861 Idaho, suffered damage to the rear bumper. The left front of the Roberts car was damaged.

A 1964 sedan operated by Mrs. Audrey F. Hoyt, 35, wife of Donald Hoyt of 208 Vernia St., and a 1962 tanker truck, owned by the Wallover Oil Co. of Virginia Ave. and driven by Carl J. Anderson, 29, of 1714 Allison St., were involved in a collision on Pennsylvania Ave. at Flint Alley Friday at 5:24 p. m.

Mrs. Hoyt said the truck pulled from a service station into her path. She said she attempted to pass, but was forced into the side of the truck by oncoming traffic. The right side of the car was damaged. The truck was not damaged.

Patrolman S. E. Hayes investigated.

Weinman Sets Up Preliminaries In Sheppard's Trial

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A federal judge has set up preliminaries for Dr. Samuel Sheppard's second trial for the murder of his first wife 12 years ago.

Judge Carl A. Weinman returned the murder case to the state of Ohio Friday and set procedures for bringing Sheppard to trial.

Weinman told Sheppard's counsel and Cuyahoga County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan to appear in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court Sept. 8 for trial arrangements, including the setting of bond.

The action resulted from a U.S. Supreme Court decree that the former Bay Village osteopath must be freed if not tried "within a reasonable time."

Sheppard's attorney, F. Lee Bailey of Boston, said he would seek a change of venue Sept. 8, but did not say which county his request will name.

Bailey and Corrigan both met with Weinman in Dayton Friday.

Sheppard's $10,000 federal bond was ordered canceled effective the date of the Sept. 8 pretrial hearing.

An order from Weinman in 1964 freed Sheppard from Ohio Penitentiary. Sheppard maintained in a habeas corpus petition that widespread publicity prevented him from receiving a fair trial.

Dissenting Statements Filed In House Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional opponents of the House's compromise open housing provision say the proposal — the most controversial of the administration's omnibus civil rights bill — is far stronger than originally believed.

The provision, adopted by the House Judiciary Committee as a substitute for a wider-ranging administration proposal, is aimed primarily at real estate agents and others in the housing industry. The rights bill comes before the House July 25.

Rep. Charles M. Mathias Jr., R-Md., author of the housing compromise, has said it would exempt most individual homeowners and any real estate agent representing an exempt owner.

That interpretation was attacked Friday by other Republicans on the Judiciary Committee in a series of dissenting statements added to the majority report on the bill, which was filed July 8.

However, the supplemental report also contained an endorsement of the provision by Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, the committee's senior Republican and the party's leading House spokesman on civil rights legislation.

McCulloch joined with Mathias in a statement saying that besides opening new tract housing and large apartments to Negroes, the proposal would proclaim "a national moral standard" that should help achieve progress in housing equality. They ignored the challenges to their interpretation of the provision.

In another statement, Reps. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., and William C. Cramer, R-Fla., said the language of the proposal failed to support Mathias' views.

A homeowner would be exempt only if he sold or rented his house himself without using a real estate agent, they said. And a real estate agent would be barred in all cases from participating in a transaction involving discrimination, they added.

A similar view was voiced by Rep. William T. Cahill, R-N.J., who said the Mathias proposal "simply does not live up to claims made for its operation before it was voted on and to the press thereafter."

Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr., R-W.Va., agreed with his colleagues and called Mathias' substitute a hypocritical proposal and "a political play."

The splintering of Republican support for the compromise indicated it faces severe trouble when it comes to the House as part of the rights bill. Other sections of the bill are not in serious controversy.

The bill's backers said, however, they feel the support of McCulloch will rally enough Republicans to keep the housing provision in the bill. McCulloch, who helped put earlier civil rights bills through the House, commands wide respect among members of both parties.

The Mathias proposal also was attacked in the Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee Friday as being "more oppressive" than the original proposal in the administration bill.

Alan L. Emlen of Philadelphia, testifying Friday for the National Association of Real Estate Boards, told the senators the revision would not do what its backers claimed.

The new version, he said, "is primarily directed against real estate brokers and their salesmen and persons in the business of building, developing, selling, renting or leasing dwellings."

Emlen said that despite what Mathias has told newsmen, there is nothing in the amendment to exempt a real estate broker if he is instructed by a home owner not to sell or rent to a Negro.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., a member of the subcommittee, described Emlen's testimony as "grossly inaccurate" and said he rarely had heard "a distortion of any piece of legislation such as your testimony."

Heads We Lose, Tails They Win

What assurance can the White House and State Department furnish of making proper use of a negotiated peace in the remote events its undeclared enemy in Asia shows interest in the possibility?

Some prospects of a negotiated peace are almost as grisly as some prospects of a prolonged war in which the United States would play the role of a Malthus-type executioner in overpopulated and undernourished Asia.

These grisly prospects are related to U.S. experience in South Korea, where another undeclared enemy is still pinning down two divisions of U.S. troops and helping to bankrupt the United States 15 years after the start of negotiations and 13 years after the signing of a truce. There is no peace and no prospect of peace in Korea.

IF THE United States is "lucky" enough to get the same standoff in South Viet Nam it was able to get in South Korea, it will still be sending young men and billions to preserve this newer "triumph" in the Asiatic division of world politics in 1981—and so on ad infinitum.

The question always has been whether the United States has the know-how and the long-term will to enforce a Pax Americana on Asians.

A secondary question that would arise if the undeclared enemy in Southeast Asia showed interest in negotiations is whether the United States can hold its own against the Asiatic way of thinking. It has scored no triumph in Korea.

Asians have time and numbers on their side. They live where they are negotiating. They know the United States will get tired of its war effort in Viet Nam, just as it finally lost its zeal to fight in Korea. They can quibble and split hairs for a thousand years if necessary—and still come out ahead.

IT IS only incidentally a question of Communist ideology. Fundamentally, it is a question of Asia for Asians, just as in the early 19th century it was a question of barring North and South America to further control by Old World governments.

Asiatics can outgrow Communism. But as they outgrow it, nationalism and national-pride will grow stronger.

They always will be negotiating from home-based strength and the United States from the weakness of its position as an outsider.

Another Weekend

Another weekend and another challenge for local, county and district motorists.

The highways will be crowded with vacationers, with those heading for parks and lakes, with sight-seers in general and with the ordinary weekend travelers.

Careful driving must be the watchword to keep more horrifying fatality figures from being posted on the district's traffic scoreboard.

Covered Wagons To Turbojets

The Committee for Economic Development packs so much prestige and has been praised so lavishly for the excellence of its research and recommendations that each new report automatically gets attention.

Its newest one is a blockbuster about local government.

Some 80,000 units of local government in the United States, declares CED, should be whittled down to a maximum of 16,000 and their functions rearranged to give the public a better run for its money.

Local government should get rid of its multiple layers of jobholders going through the same motions. It should quit throwing up service jobs for grabs at the polls and concentrate on electing policy-making officials.

PERSONNEL should be rewarded for merit, not partisanship. Stronger units of local government should be given stronger powers to get things done. In short, says CED, local government should be modernized. It should get out of the covered wagon and climb aboard a turbojet, on its way to the 21st century.

One wonders when reports like this are made whether these blueprints for the future were drawn up by people who have studied soil conditions, median temperatures and local flora and fauna.

The truth is, local government is woefully inefficient. It is hag-ridden with politics. Many people who work in it and for it are ineffectual and inefficient. It is confusing, baffling, frustrating, irritating and discouraging.

But the companion truth is that local government is the way it is because this is mostly the way local people want local government to be. They like its covered-wagon ways and slow-poke lack of speed.

IF IT WERE big, shiny, glittering and packed with power they'd be scared to death. They prefer to keep the government power structure comfortably remote—in Washington. They don't even want too much power in the state capitals, as many governors have learned to their chagrin.

Everything charged against local government is admitted by its friends and defenders.

But they still do not find it guilty of anything, except congenital inefficiency—a shortcoming dear to their hearts. If local government ever got the upper hand—if it gave the impression of being too tricky to handle—the locally governed would be scared stiff.

They would have no confidence in their local government.

Among the pleasant aspects of summer are the family reunions.

As The Review news columns have shown, the district has been having its share. This is a healthy situation. Nothing does more to assure continued close ties than yearly outings.

That was not the way the Founding Fathers planned it. The members of the House of Representatives were to be directly responsive to public opinion. The benevolent despots were to be in the Senate.

U.S. senators in the original plan were to be chosen by state legislatures; the people were to have nothing to do with them. But the House of Representatives was to speak for the people; that was the idea.

Rep. Smith had been speaking for himself a long time. The Founding Fathers can rest easier.

21 Long Years Ago Today!

The Atomic Age reaches the normal status of maturity today — its 21st birthday.

"Minus 20 minutes." A voice over the radio net calling out time signals broke into the sound of rain and lightning. At "minus 45 seconds," a robot mechanism took over.

From that point, the mass of intricate mechanisms designed to explode the first atomic bomb began to operate without human control.

That was July 16, 1945, when a small group of scientists, soldiers, and other observers at the Alamogordo Air Base in New Mexico saw the atom bomb detonated.

The question remains today whether the Atomic Age has reached maturity in any but a numbers sense.

The highly secret Manhattan District operation, labeled for security the "Development of Substitute Materials Project," had been created June 18, 1942. Three months later Gen. L. R. Groves was placed in charge of all Army activities relating to the development.

After President Roosevelt's death April 12, 1945, President Truman, who as a senator had known of the project, was brought up to date by the secretary of war and Gen. Groves.

MEANTIME, in the spring of 1943, a new laboratory was established at Los Alamos, N.M., under J. R. Oppenheimer. There the atomic bomb was designed and built.

The end of June 1945, according to H. D. Smyth, consultant to the Manhattan District, found "us expecting from day to day to hear of the explosion of the first atomic bomb devised by man."

The group of observers on July 16 assembled in a remote area of the air base 17,000 yards away from the tower on which the bomb was

Should Have Thought Of That Before

GOP Governors And Viet Nam

By Raymond Moley

Republican governors in their speeches and interviews at the annual Governors' Conference over the past five years have invariably seemed to be off the target.

They are out of touch with members of their party in Congress who are deeply involved in national affairs. As members of a minority party, some of them have ambitions to be nominated on the next national ticket.

This year, with Nelson Rockefeller tied to a deadlocked legislature in Albany and out of consideration for 1968, only George Romney and Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon are regarded as "available." Romney is considered a possible candidate for president, Hatfield for vice-president.

On the Viet Nam issue, both indicated views at variance with Republican policy in Congress.

Hatfield proposed a dove-like resolution, which was decisively voted down.

Romney talked quite a bit, but seemed to be devoid of any positive views on Viet Nam. This lack of knowledge or of opinion on a war that has been growing in intensity for a long time and that has become the paramount issue before this country provides poor evidence of his capacity to oppose President Johnson in 1968.

THE LIMP performance of Republican governors was in sharp contrast to the positive position of Richard Nixon and the Republican leadership in Congress. The views of Nixon and the GOP congressional leadership not only have been correct so far as the war strategy is concerned, but are sound political strategy as well.

They anticipated the intensification of the war effort itself. For months they have called for more effective bombing of the sources of Communist supplies and have favored a quarantine on blockade of North Viet Nam.

Thus, if the Johnson policies bring Hanoi to a bid for peace before November, the President's popularity will rise to great heights. All doves and quasi-doves will be in grave political trouble.

For the Republican party to follow the Romney-Hatfield pattern this year or before 1968 would, in the event that the administration's policy is vindicated, leave the GOP in the position in which the Federalists found themselves when they opposed "Mr. Madison's War" in 1812-14.

At that time, Gen. Andrew Jackson's victory and the treaty of peace which shortly preceded it obliterated the Federalist party. More than a decade passed before a two-party system reappeared in American politics.

SPEAKING as GOP House leader, Gerald Ford not only has supported the bombing of oil depots in North Viet Nam, but criticizes the President by saying he could have shortened the war by ordering it six months ago.

Republican candidates this year should realize that if they support our action in Viet Nam now they will be in a position to say that ever since 1964 the GOP has favored strong action. If the war drags on, they will benefit by the protest among Democrats against the President without asking for it.

Another hard fact to be considered is that even if Hanoi calls for a cease-fire, the negotiations will go on for a long time, certainly for months and perhaps for a year or more. That is always Communist strategy when aggression has been stopped.

It happened in Korea. It would certainly happen in Viet Nam. For the Communist doctrine is to stall negotiations and plan for further aggressions. During all this period the central issue will still be unsettled.

The overriding issue is to make sure that Communism will not be permitted to dominate Southeast Asia. That is an American necessity. Republicans should never forget it.

Top Secret

CIA Must Remain That Way

The Senate held a session in secret for several hours last Thursday—something it rarely does—to debate a proposal to enlarge the committee which deals with the Central Intelligence Agency. The raising of the issue itself was wasted effort. Even if the Senate hadn't voted, as it did, to shelve the measure, the president of the United States is empowered by constitutional precedents to decide to what committee of Congress, if any, he wishes to give information concerning the operations of any executive agency involving national security.

Two subcommittees—comprised of members of the Armed Services Committee and the Appropriations Committee—have been carrying on satisfactorily the relations between the Senate and the Central Intelligence Agency.

The Senate, however, is divided today between those who consider themselves authorized not just to "advise" but to make American foreign policy and those who feel a sense of responsibility to the President as the person charged by the Constitution with the conduct of relations with the other governments in the world.

It was evident from the start that the purpose of the move to enlarge the committee was primarily to get information to use in ways which could unwittingly do damage to American foreign relations.

Again and again, news and radio dispatches in recent weeks from Peking and Moscow have reported how gratified the Communists were to be able to publicize the dissent expressed in the Senate as an indication that this nation is not behind its government and will force a surrender in Viet Nam.

BUT EVEN if there were no war going on, restrictions on giving information concerning the Central Intelligence Agency are clear-cut.

This was pointed out by Rear Admiral William F. Raborn, who has just retired as head of CIA. In an interview in U.S. News & World Report, he said:

"The National Security Act makes the director of Central Intelligence exclusively responsible for protecting the security of the sources and methods of the entire intelligence community. I was authorized to discuss such matters only with the special subcommittees designated for this purpose, not with any others."

"Q. What is the reason for this limitation?"

"A. It is not arbitrary or bureaucratic—we are safeguarding the lives of trusted agents and our own staff people all over the world who contribute to our government's intelligence objectives."

"We owe it to them to take every precaution to protect them—and we owe it to our government to deny hostile intelligence services even indirect hints or the slightest clues which might enable them to take steps to blunt our intelligence operations, methods and sources."

"Q. Do you mean it is a question of security leaks?"

"A. I prefer to say inadvertent disclosure. Even a professional intelligence officer has to be alert to draw the line between information which helps to evaluate or authenticate a piece of raw intelligence, and information which might point to the source or the method we used to obtain it. The more people who have both types of information, the more you multiply the chance that somebody will overstep that line by accident."

"Q. How damaging can such disclosures be?"

"A. Well, the minute you even hint that you have information the other fellow has been trying to keep secret, it is one of the first principles of the art that he will do everything possible to locate and destroy your source, or disrupt your method of operation. If the opposition is given any clues to help pinpoint the source, the counterintelligence job is that much easier."

THE MEETINGS between CIA officials and the existing congressional committees which deal with such matters have been satisfactory under both Republican and Democratic congresses.

Senators have respected the importance of protecting the sources and have recognized that to use in public speeches any information based on CIA data would only impair the usefulness of that organization.

The strangest thing about the whole episode is that in the midst of a war crisis some senators should insist upon any move which, by reason of indiscreet disclosures, could damage the United States abroad.

Unfortunately, questions like these are not clearly explained to the voters, or they would repudiate at the polls those members of Congress who put their own quest for publicity above the interests of their country.

Heads We Lose, Tails They Win

What assurance can the White House and State Department furnish of making proper use of a negotiated peace in the remote events its undeclared enemy in Asia shows interest in the possibility?

Some prospects of a negotiated peace are almost as grisly as some prospects of a prolonged war in which the United States would play the role of a Malthus-type executioner in overpopulated and undernourished Asia.

These grisly prospects are related to U.S. experience in South Korea, where another undeclared enemy is still pinning down two divisions of U.S. troops and helping to bankrupt the United States 15 years after the start of negotiations and 13 years after the signing of a truce. There is no peace and no prospect of peace in Korea.

IF THE United States is "lucky" enough to get the same standoff in South Viet Nam it was able to get in South Korea, it will still be sending young men and billions to preserve this newer "triumph" in the Asiatic division of world politics in 1981—and so on ad infinitum.

The question always has been whether the United States has the know-how and the long-term will to enforce a Pax Americana on Asians.

A secondary question that would arise if the undeclared enemy in Southeast Asia showed interest in negotiations is whether the United States can hold its own against the Asiatic way of thinking. It has scored no triumph in Korea.

Asians have time and numbers on their side. They live where they are negotiating. They know the United States will get tired of its war effort in Viet Nam, just as it finally lost its zeal to fight in Korea. They can quibble and split hairs for a thousand years if necessary—and still come out ahead.

IT IS only incidentally a question of Communist ideology. Fundamentally, it is a question of Asia for Asians, just as in the early 19th century it was a question of barring North and South America to further control by Old World governments.

Asians can outgrow Communism. But as they outgrow it, nationalism and national-pride will grow stronger.

They always will be negotiating from home-based strength and the United States from the weakness of its position as an outsider.

Another Weekend

Another weekend and another challenge for local, county and district motorists.

The highways will be crowded with vacationers, with those heading for parks and lakes, with sight-seers in general and with the ordinary weekend travelers.

Careful driving must be the watchword to keep more horrifying fatality figures from being posted on the district's traffic scoreboard.

Covered Wagons To Turbojets

The Committee for Economic Development packs so much prestige and has been praised so lavishly for the excellence of its research and recommendations that each new report automatically gets attention.

Its newest one is a blockbuster about local government.

Some 600,000 units of local government in the United States, declares CED, should be whittled down to a maximum of 16,000 and their functions rearranged to give the public a better run for its money.

Local government should get rid of its multiple layers of jobholders going through the same motions. It should quit throwing up service jobs for grabs at the polls and concentrate on electing policy-making officials.

PERSONNEL should be rewarded for merit, not partisanship. Stronger units of local government should be given stronger powers to get things done. In short, says CED, local government should be modernized. It should get out of the covered wagon and climb aboard a turbojet, on its way to the 21st century.

One wonders when reports like this are made whether these blueprints for the future were drawn up by people who have studied soil conditions, median temperatures and local flora and fauna.

The truth is, local government is woefully inefficient. It is hag-ridden with politics. Many people who work in it and for it are ineffectual and inefficient. It is confusing, baffling, frustrating, irritating and discouraging.

But the companion truth is that local government is the way it is because this is mostly the way local people want local government to be. They like its covered-wagon ways and slow-poke lack of speed.

IF IT WERE big, shiny, glittering and packed with power they'd be scared to death. They prefer to keep the government power structure comfortably remote—in Washington. They don't even want too much power in the state capitals, as many governors have learned to their chagrin.

to be set off, lay on the ground, face downward, heads away from the direction of the blast. Then, in words of a War Department report:

"At the appointed time, there was a blinding flash lighting up the whole area brighter than the brightest daylight. . . . Then came a tremendous sustained roar and a heavy pressure wave. . . a huge multi-colored surging cloud boiled to an altitude of over 40,000 feet.

"The test was over, the project a success."

The United States had spent $2 billion and used 125,000 individuals in what President Truman later called "the greatest scientific gamble in history."

FRANCE and Red China have recently made the same development at a fraction of the cost to the United States in developing its own nuclear capacity. The French bomb is more or less ridiculous in any but a political sense, and presumably the same thing is true for the Red Chinese bomb.

But it is not going to be long before any country which wants to spend an estimated $100 million or so for its first atomic weapon can have it. The cost is constantly going down.

The technical problems are not nearly so difficult of solution as they were once thought to be. Nor are the necessary ingredients in such short supply as initially believed.

The question of atomic maturity is on a global scale a little like that of the adult American's attitude toward smoking. It's probably unwise for us to do it, but we're not about to stop.

Just don't let the children start, that's all.

Miss Universe Crowning To Close Pageant Tonight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The average glamor girl weighs 121, is 5-foot-6, has a 35½-inch bust, 23½-inch waist and 36-inch hips.

That is the tale of the tape among shapely beauties from 50 nations competing for the Miss Universe crown tonight.

Miss Holland and Miss Okinawa come closest to the average. Margo Domen of Den Haag, Holland, is a half-inch shorter and her hips measure a half-inch less. Yoneko Kiyan of Koza, Okinawa, missed only in weight—four pounds above the 121 par figure.

Four of the girls weigh 121. They are Misses Sweden, Denmark, Finland and Holland.

The wispiest, 98-pound Miss Ceylon, Lorraine Roomale-cocq, said this is her formula: "Eat everything you want to. Don't diet."

Miss Norway, Siri Gro Nilsen, is the heaviest, with 138 neatly distributed pounds.

Tallest is 5-foot-9 Lynn Carol de Jager of South Africa. Shortest, 5-2, are Miss Malaysia, Helen Lee Siew Lien, and Miss Free Cuba, Lesbia Murietta.

The beauty queens of Arabia, Ireland, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Okinawa, Panama, Philippines, Scotland and U.S.A. are 5-6.

Brunettes predominate. There are 10 blondes. Miss Wales, Christine Evans, has silvery tresses which fall to her shoulders. Nilgun Arslaner of Turkey is the only red-haired contestant.

There are 30 pairs of brown eyes, with Miss Korea's about the darkest. Ten girls have blue eyes.

Miss Paraguay, Mirtha Martinez, who turned 18 on June 26, is the youngest. Only a few days older are Miss Japan, Atsumi Ikeno, and Miss Turkey.

High on the list of words frequently misspelled are: amenable, occurrence, renaissance, homogeneous, embarrassment, correlate and occasion.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remove scorch stains from a white shirt?

A.—Scorches are really burns, you know, and if too deeply burned, there is nothing at all you can do about it. If, however, the scorch is light, cut a piece of tissue paper large enough to cover the spot, then drop a little peroxide on the tissue and while still wet, place a heated iron over the tissue. Often, when the tissue is removed, the scorch will have disappeared.

Q.—Do you have any suggestions for putting hard tips on rawhide shoelaces, belt lacings, etc., for easier lacing?

A.—Try holding the ends of the laces in the flame of a lighted match, slowly rotating the end of the lace, and taking care not to char the leather. Give it the heat treatment just long enough to harden the tip sufficiently without burning the leather.

Q.—How can I make a good job of cleaning copper utensils?

A.—Mix a cupful of flour and a tablespoon of salt to a paste with vinegar, rub this briskly over the article with a soft cloth, then follow by polishing with a bit of flannel or chambray.

Q.—How can I add more "body" to an organdy dress I am washing out?

A.—If a tablespoon of sugar is added to a gallon of water when rinsing the dress, it will add more body without making it too stiff. There are many other such laundering tips included in my new household manual.

Ohio Commodore Title Bestowed On 96 By Rhodes

PUT-IN-BAY, Ohio (AP) — Some 96 Ohioans bear the title Ohio Commodore—a rank similar to Kentucky Colonel—as a result of their work in promoting the state.

Gov. James A. Rhodes made the presentation here Friday to the 96 who attended the ceremonies. Some 138 were chosen for the award.

Speaking to an audience of several hundred, Rhodes said the Commodores are to "merchandise" Ohio to other states and "market" the state to foreign countries.

Allen H. Neff, a resident of Put-In-Bay and Lakewood, was awarded the highest honor—The Lawrence Award—for assisting in the growth and development of Ohio.

Among those designated Commodore were Milton Caniff, creator of the cartoon "Steve Canyon"; Lou Groza, Cleveland Browns kicking specialist; and John H. Glenn Jr., U.S. astronaut.

Starkey In Group Which Receives Title

Gordon E. Starkey of 545 Henry Ave. was among those who received the title of commodore yesterday during the ceremonies at Put-In-Bay.

Starkey, president of the Putters Bank & Trust Co., was one of a group of businessmen and industrialists who recently toured Europe in Gov. Rhodes' program to "sell Ohio."

Mrs. Starkey accompanied her husband to Friday's presentation. They plan to return home later today.

County Mental Health Levy Submitted Again

Columbiana County will vote again at the Nov. 8 general election on a two-tenth mill levy designed to produce about $48,000 a year to improve services at the County Mental Health Clinic.

Commissioners certified a resolution Friday to the County Election Board asking a second test at the polls on the issue, which was defeated, 6,861 to 7,902, at the primary election in May.

The clinic now receives about $24,000 a year from a one-tenth mill levy approved by county voters in 1963. A bare majority would be required to approve the new proposition at the general election.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION

YOU DO NOT HAVE ANY FUN!

The statement is often made that a Christian does not enjoy life. We are told that if we want to have "fun" we can not follow the teaching of Jesus Christ. I believe these statements give a totally wrong conception of the Christian life.

The world has come to the place that they have decided that the only true enjoyment is the pleasure that comes by a sinful life. It is true that there is some pleasure in sin. Heb. 11:25. However the pleasure of sin is not worthy to be compared with the joy that comes in life while serving the Lord.

Let it be remembered that the pleasure of sin lasts only for a short time. A man may sin by fulfilling the lust of his flesh and believe that he is having a great life. However, all too soon, his sin catches up with him. His life will soon be over and then he will have to answer for his so-called pleasure. On the other hand, the Christian lives a good life here and enjoys the joy of serving the Lord. 1 Pet. 3:10. "For he that will love life, and see good days let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile." When the time comes for his life on this earth to be over, he looks forward to the pleasures of a life with God in Heaven. Paul teaches, "but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come." 1 Tim. 4:8. There is no pleasure in the future for those who commit sin. The wages of sin is death. Rom. 6:23. Thus, the pleasure of the Christian life is lasting while the pleasures of sin is just for a season.

Again, let it be noted that there can not be any contentment and peace of mind to the person who lives a sinful life. The Christian has complete peace of mind as he daily commits himself to God. God has promised that he will care for his children. 1 Pet. 5:7 "Casting all your cares upon him; for he careth for you." A child of God has a peace of mind that is beyond the understanding of the world. Phil. 4:7 "And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus." This peace does not come to a person who is living a life of sin. How does a person truly enjoy life when he knows that each day might be his last day on the earth and that he will be unprepared to meet God.

Friends, do not let anyone convince you that the life of a Christian has no joy. The truly happy person in the world is the one who is serving God. Begin your Christian life now by believing that Jesus is Christ. Acts 16:30. Repent of sins. Acts 2:38. Confess the name of Christ. Acts 8:37. Be baptized into Christ. Gal. 3:26, 27. Follow these things with a faithful life.

How Can I? By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remove scorch stains from a white shirt?

A.—Scorches are really burns, you know, and if too deeply burned, there is nothing at all you can do about it. If, however, the scorch is light, cut a piece of tissue paper large enough to cover the spot, then drop a little peroxide on the tissue and while still wet, place a heated iron over the tissue. Often, when the tissue is removed, the scorch will have disappeared.

Q.—Do you have any suggestions for putting hard tips on rawhide shoelaces, belt laces, etc., for easier lacing?

A.—Try holding the ends of the laces in the flame of a lighted match, slowly rotating the end of the lace, and taking care not to char the leather. Give it the heat treatment just long enough to harden the tip sufficiently without burning the leather.

Q.—How can I make a good job of cleaning copper utensils?

A.—Mix a cupful of flour and a tablespoon of salt to a paste with vinegar, rub this briskly over the article with a soft cloth, then follow by polishing with a bit of flannel or chambray.

Q.—How can I add more "body" to an ordinary dress I am washing out?

A.—If a tablespoon of sugar is added to a gallon of water when rinsing the dress, it will add more body without making it too stiff. There are many other such laundering tips included in my new household manual.

Youths' Event Set At Church

A youth rally will be held at the Wellsville Baptist Temple tonight at 7:30, with youth of the church hosting teen-age groups from area churches.

Delegations from Carrollton, Louisville, Winterville, Sandy Valley and the First Baptist Church of Chester will attend.

The program, to be presented by the visitors, will include songs and readings.

The guest speaker will be a student from Bob Jones University at Greenville, S. C.

Refreshments will be served by members of the Women's Missionary Fellowship of the host church. Young people of the area are invited.

Youth To Preach From Pulpit That His Dad Occupied

LISBON — Jim Cord will observe his 20th birthday Sunday by preaching in the First Christian Church here from the pulpit his father occupied 20 years ago.

A junior at Milligan College, Milligan, Tenn., he is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Cord of Stow.

Jim served the past year as student assistant pastor at the Bountville (Tenn.) Christian Church. He is baritone soloist with the college concert choir.

Communion Planned For Catholic Mothers

The Christian Mothers of Presentation Catholic Church will receive Communion at the 9 a. m. Mass Sunday, Mrs. John Kovarik, president, announced.

The Women's Guild of the church will meet August 23 at 7:30 p. m. for a board meeting and at 8 for a general meeting. Plans will be made to hold a bazaar in September.

County Mental Health Levy Submitted Again

Columbiana County will vote again at the Nov. 8 general election on a two-tenth mill levy designed to produce about $48,000 a year to improve services at the County Mental Health Clinic.

Commissioners certified a resolution Friday to the County Election Board asking a second test at the polls on the issue, which was defeated, 6,861 to 7,902, at the primary election in May.

The clinic now receives about $24,000 a year from a one-tenth mill levy approved by county voters in 1963. A bare majority would be required to approve the new proposition at the general election.

Miss West Virginia Crowning Awaited

CHARLESTON — A dozen West Virginia beauties vie for the title of Miss West Virginia here tonight at Municipal Auditorium.

The title carries with it a chance at becoming Miss America, a $1,000 scholarship, a $500 wardrobe, a new car to use for a year, $500 in jewelry and other prizes.

The ceremonies are scheduled to begin at 8.

Miss Universe Crowning To Close Pageant Tonight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The average glamor girl weighs 121, is 5-foot-6, has a 35½-inch bust, 23½-inch waist and 36-inch hips.

That is the tale of the tape among shapely beauties from 50 nations competing for the Miss Universe crown tonight.

Miss Holland and Miss Okinawa come closest to the average. Margo Domen of Den Haas, Holland, is a half-inch shorter and her hips measure a half-inch less. Yoneko Kiyari of Kozu, Okinawa, missed only in weight—four pounds above the 121 par figure.

Four of the girls weigh 121. They are Misses Sweden, Denmark, Finland and Holland.

The wispiest, 98-pound Miss Ceylon, Lorraine Roosmalecoq, said this is her formula: "Eat everything you want to. Don't diet."

Miss Norway, Siri Gro Nilsen, is the heaviest, with 138 neatly distributed pounds.

Tallest is 5-foot-9 Lynn Carol de Jager of South Africa. Shortest, 5-2, are Miss Malaysia, Helen Lee Siew Lien, and Miss Free Cuba, Lesbia Murieta.

The beauty queens of Aruba, Ireland, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Okinawa, Panama, Philippines, Scotland and U.S.A. are 5-6.

In what pageant officials call vital statistics, Miss Holland and Miss Okinawa are 35½—23½—35½. Other dimensions range from 34-22-34 for the Misses Ecuador, Morocco and Puerto Rico to Miss Venezuela's 39-24-39.

Brunettes predominate. There are 10 blondes. Miss Wales, Christine Evans, has silvery tresses which fall to her shoulders. Nilgun Arslaner of Turkey is the only red-haired contestant.

There are 30 pairs of brown eyes, with Miss Korea's about the darkest. Ten girls have blue eyes.

Miss Paraguay, Mirtha Martinez, who turned 18 on June 26, is the youngest. Only a few days older are Miss Japan, Atsumi Ikeno, and Miss Turkey.

High on the list of words frequently misspelled are: amenable, occurrence, renaissance, homogeneous, embarrassment, correlate and occasion.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION

YOU DO NOT HAVE ANY FUN!

The statement is often made that a Christian does not enjoy life. We are told that if we want to have "fun" we can not follow the teaching of Jesus Christ. I believe these statements give a totally wrong conception of the Christian life.

The world has come to the place that they have decided that the only true enjoyment is the pleasure that comes by a sinful life. It is true that there is some pleasure in sin. Heb. 11:25. However the pleasure of sin is not worthy to be compared with the joy that comes in life while serving the Lord.

Let it be remembered that the pleasure of sin lasts only for a short time. A man may sin by fulfilling the lust of his flesh and believe that he is having a great life. However, all too soon, his sin catches up with him. His life will soon be over and then he will have to answer for his so-called pleasure. On the other hand, the Christian lives a good life here and enjoys the joy of serving the Lord. 1 Pet. 3:10. "For he that will love life, and see good days let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile." When the time comes for his life on this earth to be over, he looks forward to the pleasures of a life with God in Heaven. Paul teaches, "but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come." 1 Tim. 4:8. There is no pleasure in the future for those who commit sin. The wages of sin is death. Rom. 6:23. Thus, the pleasure of the Christian life is lasting while the pleasures of sin is just for a season.

Again, let it be noted that there can not be any contentment and peace of mind to the person who lives a sinful life. The Christian has complete peace of mind as he daily commits himself to God. God has promised that he will care for his children. 1 Pet. 5:7 "Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you." A child of God has a peace of mind that is beyond the understanding of the world. Phil. 4:7 "And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus." This peace does not come to a person who is living a life of sin. How does a person truly enjoy life when he knows that each day might be his last day on the earth and that he will be unprepared to meet God.

Friends, do not let anyone convince you that the life of a Christian has no joy. The truly happy person in the world is the one who is serving God. Begin your Christian life now by believing that Jesus is Christ. Acts 16:30, 31. Repent of sins. Acts 2:38. Confess the name of Christ. Acts 8:37. Be baptized into Christ. Gal. 3:26, 27. Follow these things with a faithful life.

Bills totaling $2,304.40 were ordered paid. The road-chipping program is continuing, with crews working in the Hill Addition. Next week they will move into the east part of the township. Guy Dignan was absent.

The next meeting will be July 29.

Rabbit Market Grows

Boom In Bunnies

THE FLOPPY-EARED, gentle-eyed rabbit has become one of the important mainstays of the American economy, providing meat, fur, wool, laboratory test facilities, fertilizer and lucky charms.

Attention is being called to the role of the furry animal by the Tri-State Rabbit and Cavy Breeders Association observance of National Rabbit Week next week.

No longer just a pet, but a significant agriculture animal, the rabbit was first used as a food in Asia centuries before the birth of Christ.

It was originally domesticated in Africa, and has been marketed in Europe for 1,000 years, eaten in all European countries. The growth of use of rabbit meat in America has been rapid, and in Los Angeles County alone over 7 million pounds of rabbit are used annually, according to Miss Vivian Jones of the Association.

"An all-white meat, rabbit is one of the highest nutritional foods, rich in protein and excellent for those with stomach problems," she said, adding it can be prepared over 300 ways.

SHE EXPLAINED domestic rabbits have no communicable diseases injurious to humans and have never been known to carry tularemia which affects wild rabbits. "Domestic rabbits are among the cleanest vegetarians, and are not carnivorous."

Rabbit meat helped feed the German civilian population during World War II and constitutes a large part of the Cuban food supply today.

Not very many people realize up to 98.7 per cent of the rabbit carcass can be utilized in some form, leaving only the bone as possible waste, Miss Jones pointed out.

She said the mucilage on all United States stamps is made from rabbit glue. Most felt hats are made of rabbit fur, and over 85 per cent of the furs used for garments is duplicated by rabbit — "More rabbit fur is used in a royal coronation than ermine," she commented.

Rabbits are also used in laboratories for tests for human pregnancies, while rabbit feet have been used for good luck charms for years. In Hollywood, some stars used the feet for cosmetic brushes.

Considerable money can be made in rabbit farming. Miss Jones said full time employment for one person can be provided by 600 rabbits, with a profit of from $5 to $10 from each.

annually. The largest litter known was 23.

The local Association grew from a meeting of rabbit raisers held in the summer of 1923 at the St. Clair Ave. home of Walter Clapsaddle who organized the group and served as its president for many years. Clapsaddle, who now resides on Lisbon St., still raises rabbits.

The current officers are Ray Vaughn of Chester, president; Floyd Beatty of Route 267, vice president and show superintendent; Mrs. Diana Walker of Beaver Falls, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Floyd Beatty, show secretary, and Miss Jones of Route 267, publicity.

The Association, which has 33 members in a 150-mile radius of the city, is chartered under the American Rabbit Breeders Association numbering 23,000 members in the 50 states and territories and several foreign countries.

MISS JONES reports there are more than 40,000 farms raising 28 different breeds of rabbits in over 30 countries.

She said there are 26 breeds represented in the local group, ranging from the little Ruby Eye Polish weighing 2½ pounds to the Flemish Giants which weigh 23 pounds.

The group also sponsors rabbit shows in which the various breeders compete for prizes with their best animals. The Association's first show was held in 1925 with 20 entries; in the June 5 show of this year, there were 241 entries.

A much larger turnout is expected for the fall show to be held Sept. 25 at the Canfield Fairgrounds, Mrs. Beatty, show secretary, said.

Mr. and Mrs. Beatty operate the largest rabbit farm in this district, with some 175 in their pens.

The rabbits are fed a commercial pellet feed, with perhaps some greens such as clover occasionally.

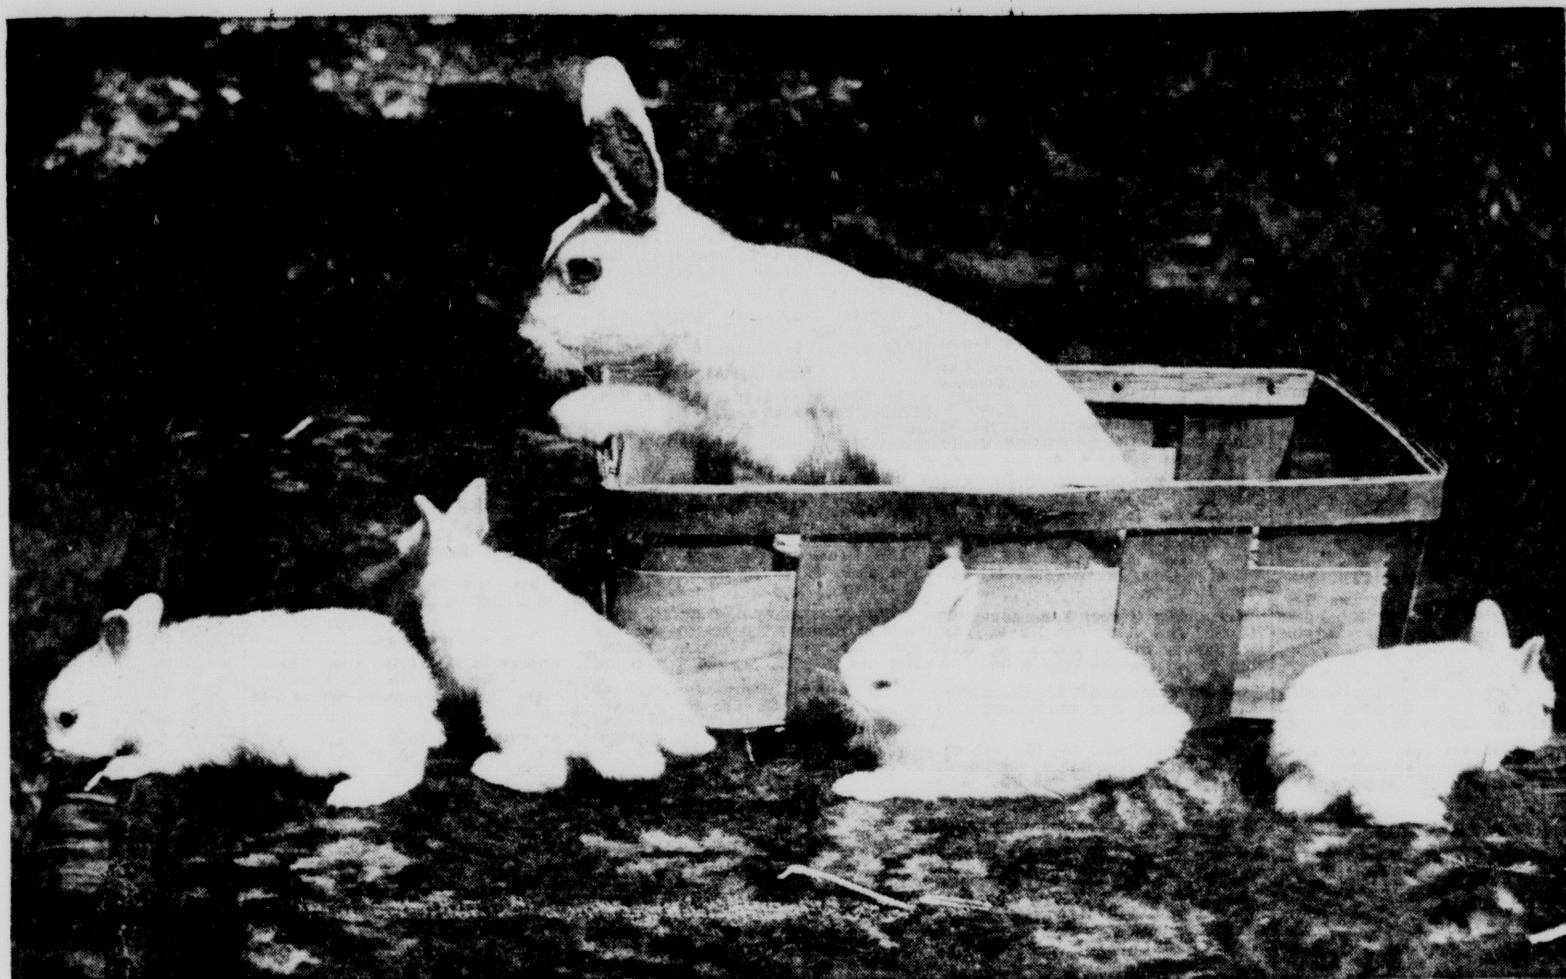

CONTRARY TO common belief, all rabbits are not carrot lovers. Some even refuse to eat the Bugs Bunny favorite.

In fact, rabbits show individual traits and personalities which set them apart from each other, just as humans,

Mrs. Beatty and Miss Jones report.

Buck rabbits are generally very friendly with easy dispositions, while some females are crotchety and irritable, they said.

But regardless of their size and personality, rabbits continue to become a growing part of the food and fur industry of the nation and the world.

This Ruby-Eyed Polish doe and her 3-week-old brood owned by Miss Vivian Jones of Route 267 are among the large number of rabbits being raised in the Tri-State Area for commercial markets.

Walter Clapsaddle of Lisbon St. holds a Black Dutch behind a table bearing a Checkered Giant and some of his many trophies.

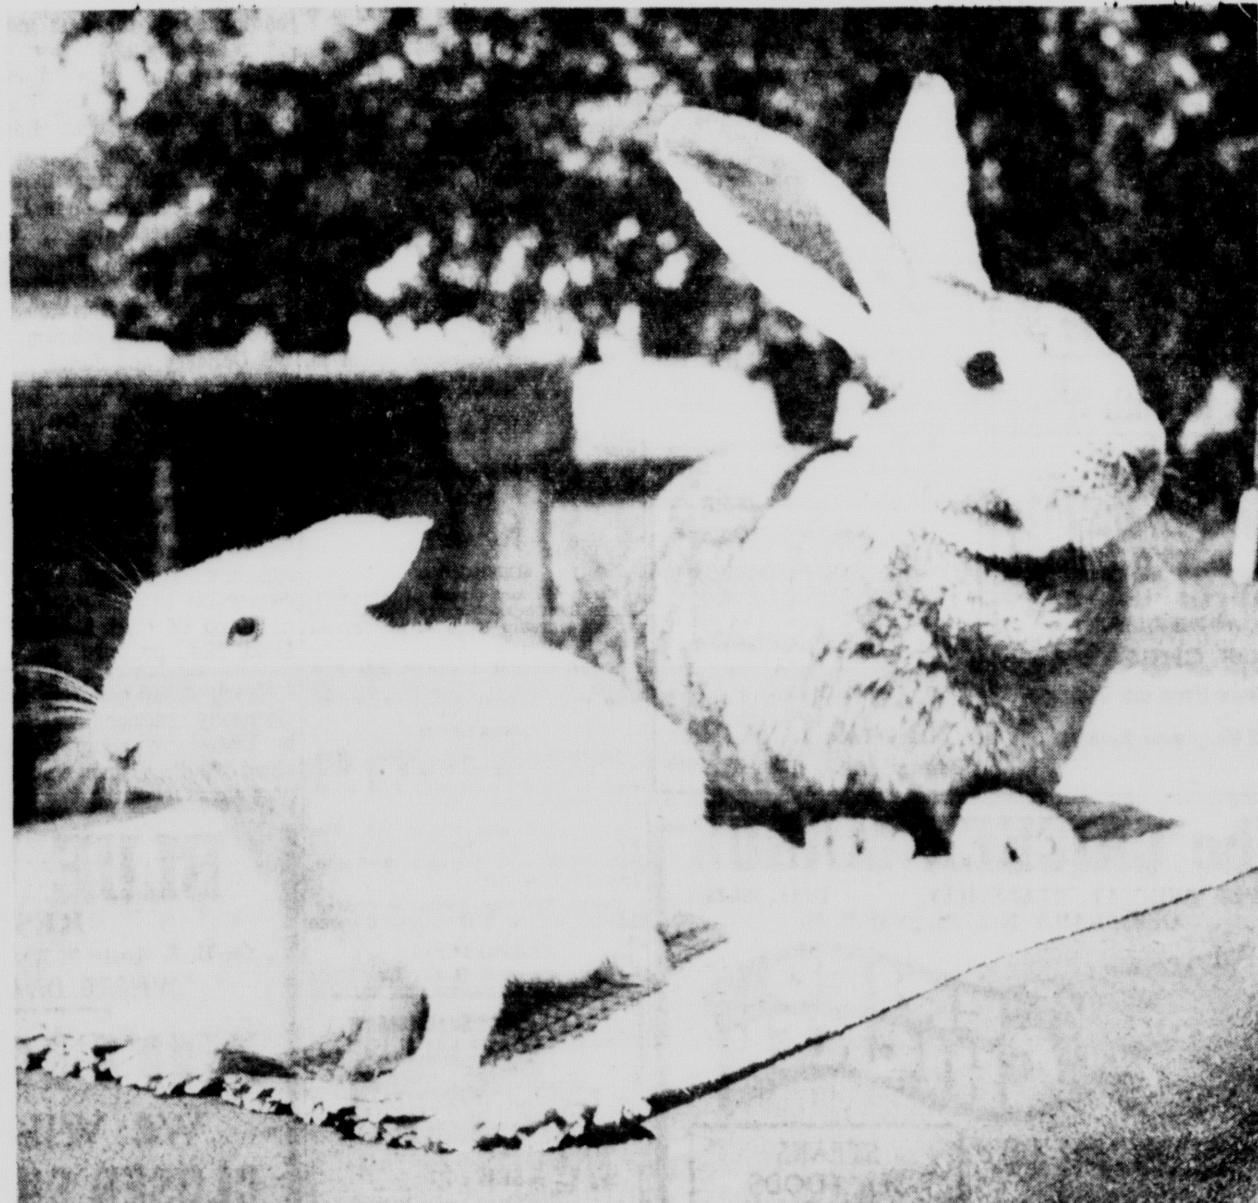

Linda Starr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Starr of Laurel Heights, Chester, displays an Angora rabbit.

Ray Vaughn of Chester, who raises New Zealand Reds has earned many trophies and ribbons in competition.

Some ribbons and trophies won by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Beatty of Route 267 and their son, Avery Keck, are shown with a Ruby-Eyed Polish held by the youth and two Silver Martens.

A contrast in bunnies is represented by the 3-pound Ruby-Eyed Polish, left, and the large Avery Keck, are shown with a Ruby-Eyed Polish held by the youth and two Silver Martens.

THE 1966-67 HUNTING and trapping regulations have been established by the Ohio Wildlife Council, with no major changes except for the re-establishment of the traditional Nov. 15 date for the opening of upland game season.

New regulations also permit the use of muzzle loading rifles for taking deer in the eastern zone and the shooting of hen pheasants in certain areas.

The hunting of all wild animals except deer and waterfowl is prohibited during the deer gun season in both East and northwest zones.

Bow and arrow season on deer, either bucks or does, is from Oct. 15 through Nov. 26 and Dec. 3 through Dec. 31. The hunting hours are daylight to dark.

In the northwest zone bucks or does may be taken with shotgun slugs Nov. 30 through Dec. 2, with hunting hours from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

In the eastern zone, which includes Columbiana County, bucks only may be taken with shotgun slugs or muzzle loading rifles of .38 caliber or larger Nov. 28 through Dec. 2. The hours are 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The limit is one deer per person whether taken with bow and arrow, shotgun slug, or muzzle loading rifle. Bow and arrow hunting is prohibited during the five-day gun season.

One new regulation outlaws the use of walkie talkies or other voice projecting devices while deer hunting.

Squirrel season on private lands is from Sept. 9 through Nov. 12 and from Sept. 9 to Dec. 24 on state public hunting areas. The hours are daylight to dark with a daily bag limit of four. The possession limit after the first day is not to exceed eight.

An experimental teal season will be held statewide Sept. 16-24, with the hours from sunrise to sunset. The bag limit is four of any of the blue winged, green winged or cinnamon teal, or a combination of any of the species.

Each hunter, regardless of age, must have a special free hunting permit in order to hunt.

RUFFED GROUSE season is from Oct. 14 through Feb. 25, 1967, with shooting hours daylight to dark. The bag limit is three.

Rabbit season opens Nov. 15 and extends through Jan. 28, 1967. The hours are 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. with a limit of four.

Cock pheasant and Hungarian partridge season also opens Nov. 15, ending Dec. 17 on private land, and Jan. 28, 1967 on state areas. The limit is two.

The special hen and cock pheasant season is for the south pheasant zone and on Hamden Orchard, Auburn Marsh, Grand River and Berlin Reservoir Wildlife areas. The season is Nov. 15 through Jan. 28.

Bobwhite quail may be hunted on lands where the state and landowner have signed an agreement from Nov. 15 through Dec. 17 and Nov. 15 through Jan. 28 on state owned hunting areas. The 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. shooting hours are to be observed and the bag limit is six.

The areas have not been determined for the next wild turkey season, but the dates will be May 3-6, 1967.

Raccoon, opossum, mink and muskrat may be taken either by gun or trap Nov. 4 through Feb. 18. The hours will be 12:01 to 6 a. m. on the opening day and 6 p. m. to 6 a. m. thereafter. The only bag limit is on raccoon, which is four per day.

There are no restrictions on taking skunk, weasel and groundhogs.

Beaver trapping will be permitted Feb. 1-15 on private land in Ashtabula, Athens, Carroll, Columbiana, Coshocton, Gallia, Guernsey, Harrison, Jackson, Jefferson, Mahoning, Morgan, Muskingum, Noble, Stark, Trumbull, Vinton, Washington and Williams Counties.

The season limit is two. Trappers must not use more than three Number 3 or larger double spring traps. Trapping is prohibited within 10 feet of a dam or home.

IT MIGHT SEEM a little early to be thinking of hunting, what with the 90-degree temperatures, and most sportsmen are spending their time fishing. But now is the time to start planning those early morning bird and bunny hunts.

Game management personnel suggest making friends with area farmers now by eliminating a few pesky groundhogs.

Most farmers welcome hunters because groundhogs eat crops and dig holes in fields.

Now is a good time because the young are out of the burrows and are tender eating.

And in the same vein, have you noticed the number of little rabbits? This has been an exceptionally good year for rabbits and they should be plentiful this fall.

Two litters already have been born and the third should be produced shortly.

ANOTHER STOCKING of northern pike has been made at Guilford Lake.

Approximately 1,000 fingerlings were dumped into the lake a few weeks ago. They were produced at the St. Marys Fish Hatchery.

Nothens seem to do well at Guilford. Several were caught this spring by area fishermen.

A few nice catfish are being caught at Guilford.

A NEW FISH AND HUNT brochure has been prepared by the state. It contains a complete listing of 264 public fishing and hunting areas in Ohio, along with a map indicating their location.

The brochure also contains other information, including the state records for species of Ohio fish taken by hook and line.

The state has more than a half million acres of public land and 100,000 acres of inland lakes.

The brochure can be obtained by writing Publications Section, Ohio Department of Natural Resources, 1500 Dublin Rd., Columbus, 4312. Ask for publication NRW-77 and enclose a five cent postage stamp.

FISHING IN the Tri-State area is slow, or at least that is the story from most fishermen.

But if you want some action, try plugging with a jitterbug late at night along your favorite stream or along the lake shore near the weed beds.

Some nice bass are being taken by those industrious enough to really go after them.

One group of fishermen hooked into what apparently was a large eel in Beaver Creek this week.

After battling the critter for about 30 minutes in the dark, they got it part way up on shore. Every time they tried to grab it, their hands would slip off. They said it was black, had skin like a catfish and was as big around as your forearm.

Finally, the line snapped and it got loose in the water. It was caught on the head section of a hard crawfish.

Someone always manages to catch an eel or two each summer in Beaver Creek. They can put up a battle royal when hooked.

ED GREEN of Dome St. still is catching those catfish in Beaver Creek. He landed a 10-pounder about 4:30 a. m. Friday at Grimm's Bridge. It measured 25-inches. He caught a 17-pounder over a week ago.

Ed uses soft craws. He also caught several bass, two of which were really nice size. Ed says the bass started feeding shortly after it stopped raining.

Tri-State Tour Tips

Ohio's largest state park, St. Mary's in western Ohio, is the center of attraction for this suggested tour. In the park is 13,500-acre Grand Lake, surrounded by 2,000 acres of land.

The lake and park are located on U.S. 127 and Ohio 29, and fishing, boating, camping, swimming and picnic facilities abound. Not far away are the St. Marys Waterfowl Refuge and St. Marys Fish Hatchery.

Also in the area is Lake Loramie, reached from Ohio 362 just off Ohio 66. The lake of 1,650 acres has facilities for water sports and camping. This formerly was a reservoir on the Miami-Erie Canal, and at the west end was Peter Loramie's trading post, one of the landmarks of early Ohio.

Memorials to early Indian wars also abound in the area. At Greenville was Fort Greenville, built in 1793 by General Anthony Wayne. Here the Indians ceded to the United States all lands south of the Greenville Treaty Line and east of the Tuscarawas and Cuyahoga Rivers. The "Alter of Peace" is lighted and kept burning each year from June to August in commemoration of the treaty signing. The Garst Museum in Greenville displays Indian relics, personal effects of Annie Oakley, and other exhibits.

Fort Jefferson State Monument is in a six-acre tract on Ohio 121. Here General St. Clair had an outpost in the 1791 campaign against the Indians. Elements of the fort are marked for present-day visitors.

Fort Recovery State Memorial is located on Ohio 49. This is Ohio's only reconstructed frontier military post. The nine-acre state park marks the site of General St. Clair's defeat by the Indians in 1791.

The Columbiana County Motor Club suggests this routing to the tour area: Follow Route 30 from East Liverpool to Mansfield and North to Beaver Dam, Route 25 and Interstate 75 to Wapakoneta, Route 33 and Route 29 to St. Marys Lake.

Stamps In The News

To honor the second anniversary of the union of Tanganyika and Zanzibar, the government of Zanzibar has issued two new designs comprising four values, reports the Crown Agents Representative in Washington. The four values are 30 cents, 50 cents, 1 shilling 30 cents and 2 shillings 50 cents.

One design features the portraits of the president and the first vice president of the script now in the Bodleian Librar in Oxford. The 20 ct plus 10 vermilion, blue and gray illustrates a miniature from the manuscript of the "Roman van Walewein," an ancient novel dated 1350. The 25 ct plus 10 red, yellow and gray shows another ancient manuscript written about the same time as the Walewein.

The 40 ct plus 20 green, gray and purple features an anonymous woodcut showing a 16th Century composing room and printing office.

The Yemen Arab Republic has issued a set of 10 animal stamps. Four of the stamps depict various species of butterflies. Other stamps in this series show a cat, rooster, donkey, camel, sheep and rabbit.

Bechuanaland has issued four new stamps to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the Pioneer Corps. Depicted on these stamps are: Halsar smoke generator, last post in the desert, Bechuana gunsite, regimental cap badge.

Liberia has announced the issuance of three new stamps and a souvenir sheet to mark the World Cup Soccer Championships scheduled for London in July. The 10 cent blue, green and brown shows soccer players. In the background are hemisphere maps. The 25 cents orange and brown features one soccer player.

The 35 cents rose and brown shows a soccer ball and the presentation cup. A souvenir sheet in blue and brown with a 50-cent air-mail stamp illustrates a soccer match being played in a large stadium. The inscription reads: "World Soccer Championships — London, 1966."

Home Hints

By Ann Overturf

Columbiana County Home Economist

When freezing vegetables, blanching is a key part of the process. The blanching, which some folks call scalding, stops the chemical action of enzymes which are present in all vegetables.

When these enzymes remain active the quality of the frozen product is lowered. Off-flavors and off color will develop as the product is stored in the freezer. Blanching prevents this undesirable development.

There are no exceptions. All vegetables should be blanched. In addition, blanching wilts the vegetables making them easier to pack. It also removes some earthy flavors, kills undesirable bacteria, cleans the product further, and sets the color.

Blanching may be accomplished by two different methods, either the use of live steam or boiling water. To use live steam place the vegetables on a rack or in a bag over top of a pan which contains two or three inches of boiling water. Cover the pan and begin timing when the steam flows freely.

The pan should be large—8-10 quart. The vegetables should be blanched in small quantities (1 to 2 pounds). This method is preferred for all vegetables except leafy green ones which mat together when they are steamed.

The other method requires immersion in boiling water for a specific period of time. It is recommended for the leafy vegetables. Regardless of the method used, exact time according to the directions for the specific vegetable used, is quite important for a top product.

Cooling is also vital. The vegetables should be cooled very rapidly either in ice water or in cold running water. They should be cooled for at least as long as they were blanched. Then drain as soon as possible and proceed to freeze them. Delay in getting the vegetables into the freezer also lowers quality.

Here is a tip for washing the vegetables before the blanching occurs. Soak them in warm water to which is added a small amount of detergent.

The detergent helps remove spray residues and dirt. In the case of insects or aphids a weak salt solution will help with the soaking. Then rinse. Careful handling and blanching of vegetables is certainly worthwhile when the product is attractive to the eye as well as the appetite. Vegetables are the main food that adds color and interest to our menus.

Burglar Alarm?

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — While George Thomas was in a building in suburban Wilksburg making a sales demonstration, a thief took from his car a demonstration kit containing an automatic fire and burglar alarm system valued at $365.

You And The Law

The Gizmo Company had received many complaints about the odors emanating from the smokestacks of its factory. The heavy smoke settled heavily over the town every day, and hot, windless days were especially bad.

Realizing that something had to be done, company officials went into a huddle on the problem.

"THERE ARE several solutions," an engineer told them. "The most reasonable is simply to build a taller smoke stack which will carry the smoke into the higher winds and solve the local problem. By the time the smoke reaches another area it will be so diluted that it won't be noticed."

Acting on the recommendation, the company built a very tall smokestack designed to carry the smoke higher. Since the project came under the heading on air pollution control, the company applied to the Department of Taxation for a tax exemption.

"The law says that such pollution control devices can be tax exempt for property tax purposes," the company said, "therefore our new smokestack should be exempt."

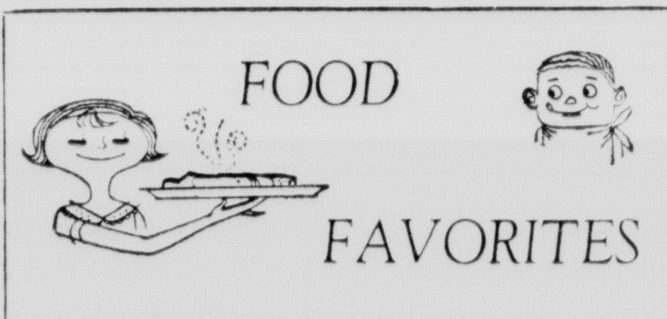

THE TAX people saw it differently, however. They denied the exemption on the grounds that there was really no control of pollution as such. The smokestack merely distributed the smoke and its pollutants elsewhere.

The State Supreme Court upheld the department's ruling.

"The cumulative effect of many minor contributions to general air pollution will not be lessened if everyone merely builds a smokestack," the court said. While the property around the plant was affected less by the smoke, there is no evidence that expelling the smoke at a higher level reduced or eliminated the general air pollution "within this state" as required under the law for purposes of a tax exemption, the court ruled.

tried to grab it, their hands would slip off. They said it was black, had skin like a catfish and was as big around as your forearm.

Finally, the line snapped and it got loose in the water. It was caught on the head section of a hard crawfish.

Someone always manages to catch an eel or two each summer in Beaver Creek. They can put up a battle royal when hooked.

ED GREEN of Dome St. still is catching those catfish in Beaver Creek. He landed a 10-pounder about 4:30 a. m. Friday at Grims Bridge. It measured 25-inches. He caught a 17-pounder over a week ago.

Ed uses soft craws. He also caught several bass, two of which were really nice size. Ed says the bass started feeding shortly after it stopped raining.

Tri-State Tour Tips

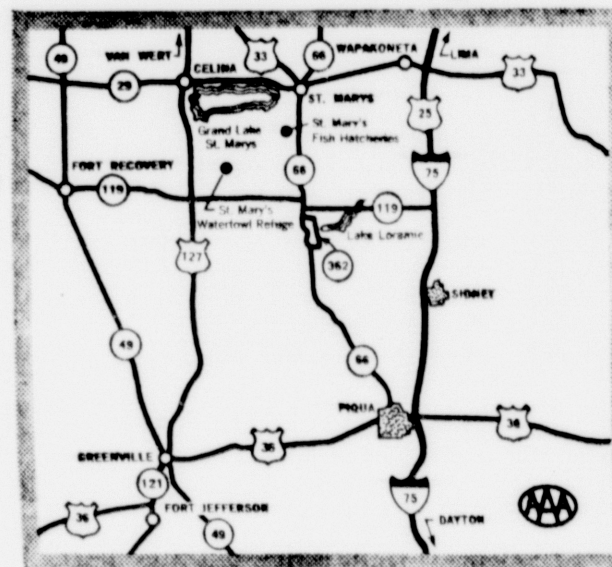

Ohio's largest state park, St. Mary's in western Ohio, is the center of attraction for this suggested tour. In the park is 13,500-acre Grand Lake, surrounded by 2,000 acres of land.

The lake and park are located on U.S. 127 and Ohio 29, and fishing, boating, camping, swimming and picnic facilities abound. Not far away are the St. Marys Waterfowl Refuge and St. Marys Fish Hatchery.

Also in the area is Lake Lorain, reached from Ohio 362 just off Ohio 66. The lake of 1,650 acres has facilities for water sports and camping. This formerly was a reservoir on the Miami-Erie Canal, and at the west end was Peter Lorain's trading post, one of the landmarks of early Ohio.

Memorials to early Indian wars also abound in the area.

At Greenville was Fort Greenville, built in 1793 by General Anthony Wayne. Here the Indians ceded to the United States all lands south of the Greenville Treaty Line and east of the Tuscarawas and Cuyahoga Rivers. The "Alter of Peace" is lighted and kept burning each year from June to August in commemoration of the treaty signing. The Garst Museum in Greenville displays Indian relics, personal effects of Annie Oakley, and other exhibits.

Fort Jefferson State Monument is in a six-acre tract on Ohio 121. Here General St. Clair had an outpost in the 1791 campaign against the Indians. Elements of the fort are marked for present-day visitors.

Fort Recovery State Memorial is located on Ohio 49. This is Ohio's only reconstructed frontier military post. The nine-acre state park marks the site of General St. Clair's defeat by the Indians in 1791.

The Columbiana County Motor Club suggests this routing to the tour area. Follow Route 30 from East Liverpool to Mansfield and North to Beaver Dam, Route 25 and Interstate 75 to Wapakoneta, Route 33 and Route 29 to St. Marys Lake.

Stamps In The News

To honor the second anniversary of the union of Tanganyika and Zanzibar, the government of Zanzibar has issued two new designs commemorating the union. The first design features the portraits of the president and the first vice president of the country. The second design depicts a laurel wreath holding the flame of the union, symbolic of the unity of the two nations.

The Netherlands has issued a set of five new "summer stamps." These stamps are semipostals with the additional values going to promote the summer tourist trade of the Netherlands.

The Yemen Arab Republic has issued a set of 10 animal stamps. Four of the stamps depict various species of butterflies. Other stamps in this series show a cat, rooster, donkey, camel, sheep and rabbit.

Bechuanaland has issued four new stamps to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the Pioneer Corps. Depicted on these stamps are: Halsar smoke generator, last post in the desert, Bechuanaland gunit, regimental cap badge.

Liberia has announced the issuance of three new stamps and a souvenir sheet to mark the World Cup Soccer Championships scheduled for London in July. The 10 cent blue, green and brown shows soccer players. In the background are hemisphere maps. The 25 cents orange and brown features one soccer player.

The 35 cents rose and brown shows a soccer ball and the presentation cup. A souvenir sheet in blue and brown with a 50-cent air-mail stamp illustrates a soccer match being played in a large stadium. The inscription reads: "World Soccer Championships — London, 1966."

The 12 ct plus 8 green, red and gray depicts a rare manuscript now in the Bodleian Library in Oxford. The 20 ct plus 10 vermilion, blue and gray illustrates a miniature from the manuscript of the "Roman van Walewein," an ancient novel dated 1350. The 25 ct plus 10 red, yellow and gray shows another ancient manuscript written about the same time as the Walewein.

The 40 ct plus 20 green, gray and purple features an anonymous woodcut showing a 16th Century composing room and printing office.

When freezing vegetables, blanching is a key part of the process. The blanching, which some folks call scalding, stops the chemical action of enzymes which are present in all vegetables.

When these enzymes remain active the quality of the frozen product is lowered. Off-flavors and off color will develop as the product is stored in the freezer. Blanching prevents this undesirable development.

There are no exceptions. All vegetables should be blanched. In addition, blanching wilts the vegetables making them easier to pack. It also removes some earthy flavors, kills undesirable bacteria, cleans the product further, and sets the color.

Blanching may be accomplished by two different methods, either the use of live steam or boiling water. To use live steam place the vegetables on a rack or in a bag over top of a pan which contains two or three inches of boiling water. Cover the pan and begin timing when the steam flows freely.

The pan should be large—8-10 quart. The vegetables should be blanched in small quantities (1 to 2 pounds). This method is preferred for all vegetables except leafy green ones which mat together when they are steamed.

The other method requires immersion in boiling water for a specific period of time. It is recommended for the

Husband Sails Aboard Yacht In Atlantic Contest

Wives who sometimes wonder where their husbands are if they're 15 minutes late from work might be concerned if the man of the house were somewhere on the high seas between Bermuda and Denmark — time of arrival uncertain.

Unworried is Mrs. Harry Keith, 30, a professor at the U.S. Navy Academy at Annapolis, Md., is with a nine-man crew on the "Xanadu No. 2" participating in the race, the largest in trans-Atlantic history.

Mrs. Keith is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Pullins of Armstrong Ln., along with her children, Malinda Jane and Keith Jr., and will leave next Friday for Copenhagen to meet her husband.

The boats left June 29 for Europe in the contest which is sponsored by the Royal Danish Yacht Club in connection with its 100th anniversary.

Keith, son of a 30-year Navy career man, is watch captain aboard the "Xanadu No. 2."

The other method requires immersion in boiling water for a specific period of time. It is recommended for the leafy vegetables. Regardless of the method used, exact time according to the directions for the specific vegetable used, is quite important for a top product.

Cooling is also vital. The vegetables should be cooled very rapidly either in ice water or in cold running water. They should be cooled for at least as long as they were blanched. Then drain as soon as possible and proceed to freeze them. Delay in getting the vegetables into the freezer also lowers quality.

Here is a tip for washing the vegetables before the blanching occurs. Soak them in warm water to which is added a small amount of detergent.

The detergent helps remove spray residues and dirt. In the case of insects or aphids a weak salt solution will help with the soaking. Then rinse.

Careful handling and blanching of vegetables is certainly worthwhile when the product is attractive to the eye as well as the appetite. Vegetables are the main food that adds color and interest to our menus.

Burglar Alarm?

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — While George Thomas was in a building in suburban Wilkinsburg making a sales demonstration, a thief took from his car a demonstration kit containing an automatic fire and burglar alarm system valued at $365.

You And The Law

The Gizmo Company had received many complaints about the odors emanating from the smokestacks of its factory. The heavy smoke settled heavily over the town every day, and hot, windless days were especially bad.

Realizing that something had to be done, company officials went into a huddle on the problem.

"THERE ARE several solutions," an engineer told them. "The most reasonable is simply to build a taller smoke stack which will carry the smoke into the higher winds and solve the local problem. By the time the smoke reaches another area it will be so diluted that it won't be noticed."

Acting on the recommendation, the company built a very tall smokestack designed to carry the smoke higher. Since the project came under the heading on air pollution control, the company applied to the Department of Taxation for a tax exemption.

"The law says that such pollution control devices can be tax exempt for property tax purposes," the company said, "therefore our new smokestack should be exempt."

THE TAX people saw it differently, however. They denied the exemption on the grounds that there was really no control of pollution as such. The smokestack merely distributed the smoke and its pollutants elsewhere.

The State Supreme Court upheld the department's ruling.

"The cumulative effect of many minor contributions to general air pollution will not be lessened if everyone merely builds a smokestack," the court said. While the property around the plant was affected less by the smoke, there is no evidence that expelling the smoke at a higher level reduced or eliminated the general air pollution "within this state" as required under the law for purposes of a tax exemption, the court ruled.

Umpires Finally Get Cepeda Out

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Orlando Cepeda is in a hitting mood, only the umpires can get him out.

The Cincinnati Reds weren't having much luck with the big St. Louis slugger Friday night until umpire John Kibler interceded in the seventh inning of the Cardinals' 9-2 victory.

Cepeda was called out on a close play at first base and when he argued over the call, Kibler tossed him out of the ball game.

By then, the damage was done. Cepeda had whacked his 12th and 13th homers of the season and lifted his batting average to .324, fourth best in the National League.

The Cardinal first baseman, who came from San Francisco in the trade for Ray Sadecki, is

Standing Room Only Offered By Pirates

PITTSBURGH — Demand for tickets to Sunday's double-header against the San Francisco Giants has prompted the Pittsburgh Pirates to offer standing room only tickets for the first time since the 1960 World Series.

The club announced Friday it is offering 1,000 standing room only and 3,500 bleacher tickets for sale. Forbes Field holds 35,000.

on an 11-for-20 tear at the plate and seems completely recovered from the eye injury which sidelined him for two weeks last month.

Cepeda was struck by a batting practice line drive June 10. He returned to the line-up June 24, and in the three weeks since then he's had 25 hits in 73 at bats — a .342 pace.

In addition to costing the Reds the ball game, Cepeda cost Cincinnati pitcher Sammy Ellis $50.

After Cepeda's second homer in the fifth inning, Ellis decked Mike Shannon with a pitch. Plate Umpire Paul Pryor warned Ellis about the duster, and that calls for an automatic $50 fine.

Bright's, Sevy's Take Nods In Pony League

George Bright's, fighting to hold first place, scored a 9-4 victory over Burbick's while Sevy's defeated Litten's 10-6 in Friday's Pony League contests.

Bright's collected 12 hits while Joe Walker limited Burbick's to six safeties. A five-run fourth proved the big inning for the winners. Walker also homered for Bright's while Kemple collected a double and two singles in four trips. Murray was the losing pitcher while Haney collected three hits for Burbick's.

Sevy's was outlasted 12-8 but still managed to bring home the victory as two of the eight hits collected by the winners were home runs. Brown and Don Smith hit roundtrippers. Cornell was the winning pitcher and helped his own cause with two hits. Eckles and Parsons had two doubles and a single each for Litten's.

Umpires Finally Get Cepeda Out

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Orlando Cepeda is in a hitting mood, only the umpires can get him out.

The Cincinnati Reds weren't having much luck with the big St. Louis slugger Friday night until umpire John Kibler interceded in the seventh inning of the Cardinals' 9-2 victory.

Cepeda was called out on a close play at first base and when he argued over the call, Kibler tossed him out of the ball game.

By then, the damage was done. Cepeda had whacked his 12th and 13th homers of the season and lifted his batting average to .324, fourth best in the National League.

The Cardinal first baseman, who came from San Francisco in the trade for Ray Sadecki, is

Standing Room Only Offered By Pirates

PITTSBURGH — Demand for tickets to Sunday's doubleheader against the San Francisco Giants has prompted the Pittsburgh Pirates to offer standing room only tickets for the first time since the 1960 World Series.

The club announced Friday it is offering 1,000 standing room only and 3,500 bleacher tickets for sale. Forbes Field holds 35,000.

on an 11-for-20 tear at the plate and seems completely recovered from the eye injury which sidelined him for two weeks last month.

Cepeda was struck by a batting practice line drive June 10. He returned to the line-up June 24, and in the three weeks since then he's had 25 hits in 73 at bats — a .342 pace.

In addition to costing the Reds the ball game, Cepeda cost Cincinnati pitcher Sammy Ellis $50.

After Cepeda's second homer in the fifth inning, Ellis decked Mike Shannon with a pitch. Plate Umpire Paul Pryor warned Ellis about the duster, and that calls for an automatic $50 fine.

Elsewhere in the National League, ex-Met Dick Stuart beat his former teammates with a pinch single in the 11th inning as Los Angeles edged New York

Bright's, Sevy's Take Nods In Pony League

George Bright's, fighting to hold first place, scored a 9-4 victory over Burbick's while Sevy's defeated Litten's 10-6 in Friday's Pony League contests.

Bright's collected 12 hits while Joe Walker limited Burbick's to six safeties. A five-run fourth proved the big inning for the winners. Walker also homered for Bright's while Kemple collected a double and two singles in four trips. Murray was the losing pitcher while Haney collected three hits for Burbick's.

Sevy's was out-hit 12-8 but still managed to bring home the victory as two of the eight hits collected by the winners were home runs. Brown and Don Smith hit roundtrippers. Cornell was the winning pitcher and helped his own cause with two hits. Eckles and Parsons had two doubles and a single each for Litten's.

Central Wins On Two-Hitter By Musuraca

A four-run sixth inning iced the contest for Central Service which gained a 9-3 decision over the Realtors Friday in the Colt League.

Jim Musuraca, the winning pitcher, twirled a strong two-hitter and blasted a home run to spark Central. The right-hander also fanned 10 batters.

The contest was tied at 3-3 going into the fifth inning when Central scored a single run then tallied four times in the sixth. Rose had three hits in four trips for Central. Joel Petkovich was the losing pitcher.

Ex-Ohio U. Star Littler Is Champ

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The fellow who said "nice guys finish last" probably never heard of Bobby Littler Jr.

Littler is a 23-year-old former Ohio University golf star who is polite, soft-spoken and clean-cut. He's also an outstanding amateur golfer and one of the most popular players, on or off the course.

The pride of Athens reached new heights Friday with a hard-earned 1-up victory over steel-nerved Dan Carmichael of Columbus. Littler needed 19 pressure-packed holes to prevail, but when it was over, he was Ohio's 1966 amateur king.

Twice, the bespectacled Littler came from two holes behind to get even with Carmichael, a 47-year-old architect who methodically disposed of five previous foes.

On No. 18, Littler appeared to have the championship in the bag but Carmichael, a fierce competitor, rolled in a 15-foot putt to send the match into extra holes.

"I thought it was 1962 all over again," Littler said after his victory.

He referred to the 36-hole finals that year when two-time champ Tony Blom Jr. of Cincinnati dropped in a 15-footer on the final hole to tie Littler and then did the same on an extra hole to take the title from the then 20-year-old college freshman.

The end this time came on the 19th hole when Littler boomed one straight down the fairway, hit his second shot to the front of the green and just missed curling in a tantalizing 35-foot putt. The ball stopped two inches from the cup.

Meanwhile, Carmichael was having his troubles. He put his second shot over the green and into the rough and chipped to within four feet of the pin. But his bid for a halve missed the hole for a bogey and Littler had the title.

Carmichael was 2-up after a birdie on No. 7 but Littler birdied No. 10 and parred No. 11 while Carmichael was suffering his first bogey and the match was square.

Both players showed signs of weariness in the next few holes as Carmichael won No. 12 when Littler skied to a six. He also took No. 14 when Littler hooked his drive to the left and overshot the green.

The veteran Columbus golfer looked like he was home free but Littler won Nos. 15 and 16 to again tie the match.

Littler, whose father is pro at the Athens Country Club, said he has no plans to play professionally.

"I love this game too much. I don't think I could stand the pressure making a living that way."

Minor Loop Playoff Set

A best two out of three playoff series to determine the championship of the Minor League's National Division will begin Monday at 6 p.m. between T. S. & T. and Tri-State Appliance at Farrell Field.

The second game would be played Tuesday and the third, if necessary, on Thursday.

A best two out of three series for the Minor League championship will begin on July 25 with Potters Bank and Trust, the American Division champ, meeting the winner of the T.S.&T.-Tri-State playoff.

Mother Of Three Wins At Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Pauline Whitacre of nearby Waynesburg is the reigning champion today of the 43rd Ohio Women's Invitational Golf Tournament.

The 39-year-old mother of three defeated Miss Maggie Martin of St. Clairsville, 4 and 2, Friday, to recapture the title she held in 1962.

Mrs. Whitacre won on the 34th hole of the scheduled 56-hole match when Miss Martin conceded a short putt, giving Mrs. Whitacre par four on the 322-yard hole and Miss Martin a bogey five.

Mrs. Whitacre, a former Canton school teacher, shot a four-over par 79 in the 18-hole morning round, compared with 84 for the 22-year-old Miss Martin, a June Graduate of Ohio State.

Baltimore Drops Fourth Straight

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Who says a pitcher's place is on the mound? Not Earl Wilson.

Six hurlers performed for the Detroit Tigers Friday during their 8-5 victory over Baltimore, but only five were to be found in their normal environs in the center of the diamond.

The sixth, Wilson, made his contribution at the plate with a pinch-hit, three-run, 13th-inning, two-out that about covers it home run.

Bill Monbouquette, who worked the four final innings perfectly, got the victory, while Stu Miller, who was the last of the mere three pitchers Baltimore used, took the loss. Monbouquette's performance had the added dimension of his twice having faced both Frank and Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell without a mistake.

It was the American League leading Orioles' fourth loss in a row and their second straight to the Tigers who have climbed to within six games of first place. Don Wert sent the game into overtime with a two-run single with two outs in the ninth.

In other American League games, Minnesota edged Washington 5-4, Kansas City came from behind to get New York 5-4, Chicago beat Cleveland 4-2 and California nudged Boston 4-2.

Tom McCraw cracked a single in the seventh to drive in Chicago's winning run. John Romano had opened the inning with a homer that tied the score. Bruce Howard, after a shaky start, retired the last 20 men he faced.

California moved into third place as George Brunet picked up his 10th victory of the season despite homers by Joe Foy and Rico Petrocelli. Rick Reichert scored one run and drove in another.

Wilson, who like Monbouquette came to Detroit from Boston, added to his modest reputation as a hitter. The home run was his third for the year.

Castoff Robin Roberts Goes Route To Top Bucs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A cast-off pitcher and an injured infielder knocked the Pittsburgh Pirates out of first place in the National League.

Robin Roberts, pitching his first game since he signed with the Chicago Cubs after his release from Houston, held the Pirates to eight hits for a 5-4 triumph Friday night.

The right-hander got a big boost from Cub third baseman Ron Santo, playing with a padded shield over a fractured cheek bone.

Santo gave him a lead with a three-run homer in the first inning, then knotted the score at 4-4 in the sixth with a run-scoring single.

The Pirates' loss, coupled with the San Francisco Giants' 8-1 triumph over Philadelphia, gave the Giants a one-run lead in the pennant chase.

The Cubs touched Pirate starter Vernon Law for all five runs, collecting nine hits over his 6-2-3 innings.

The loss left Law's record at 6-4. Roberts is 4-5.

Jim Pagliaroni paced the Pirate hitters with a double and a single in four trips to the plate. He scored once and drove in one run.

Jose Pagan of the Pirates had the game's other extra base hit, a double which drove in two runs.

Woody Fryman 8-3 goes against the Cubs' Bill Hands 5-4 today in the windup of the three-game series.

It's Another Boy For Woody And Wife

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher Woody Fryman is a new father again today as he takes to the mound against the Chicago Cubs.

Patrick Dale Fryman, 7 pounds, 11 ounces, was born in Maysville, Ky., Friday to Phyllis Delaney Fryman.

The couple has another son, Jeffrey, 2.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruze —

Dear Folks: This hint is for those of you who get blisters and calluses on your hands when hoeing, chopping or raking in the yard.

Take a few inches of thin rubber sponge, fold it over and hand stitch along the side opposite the fold.

Push this tube (it will be open on both ends) over the handle of your garden tool and secure in place with string or tape. Put one where the right hand usually holds the handle and one for that good old leftie.

It sure saves wear and tear on the hands.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband travels quite often, so I put a small jar of powdered instant breakfast drink and a plastic spoon in his suitcase. All he has to do is mix the powder with water.

Now he has his juice right after he wakes, instead of having to wait until he gets to a restaurant.

It helps him get started in the mornings . . . and reminds him of home.

MRS. LARRY ILLER.

DEAR HELOISE: I have been using my daughter's bathinette in my laundry room.

I fold clothes on the top. In the bath section, I store clothes to be ironed. On the bottom shelf, I store my laundry products.

GRACE M. WHIPPLE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a little idea that saves time and trouble.

I use belt eyes in my curtain tiebacks — one in each end. I hammered small-headed nails in place and bent them slightly backwards to hook the eyes on.

These tiebacks are easy to take down; or if anyone uses her curtains for shades (as I do), this is really a big help.

I tie my curtains back in the day time. At night I unhook one end of the tiebacks and the curtains fall together covering the window.

MRS. J. M. CALDWELL.

DEAR HELOISE: Ice cream has always been my favorite dessert.

One evening when "The little woman" was dishing up my bowl of ice cream, she found the chocolate syrup can empty. So she served my dessert plain. I wasn't to be "done out" of topping so I suggested that she pour some maple syrup over my ice cream, and let me try that for a change.

It was so delicious I have been using it ever since.

Mayor Helps Haul Garbage In Walkout At Wilkinsburg

PITTSBURGH (AP) — His Honor Alexander J. Jaffurs, mayor of suburban Wilkinsburg, is picking up his constituents' garbage today.

Jaffurs and six other borough officials started digging into the community's mounting garbage Friday after the 20 regular refuse collectors went on strike for more money Thursday.

"We were determined to roll a couple of trucks," he said. After heaving burlap sacks of garbage for 13 hours, Jaffurs, 36, described his first day on the job as:

"Distasteful. Yale Law School was never like this."

Tired and dirty, Jaffurs leaned against a garbage truck and moaned:

"That's a lot of garbage. I'm tired. A lot of garbage was wet and every time we dumped it into burlap sacks, it would leak onto our clothes."

About the strikers' wage demands, he said:

"After today, I'm more disposed to consider their financial request."

Jaffurs, a lawyer, had other troubles making the rounds. He said one of his clients spotted him and remarked that his practice must be pretty bad.

"I felt like choking the guy," said his Honor. He added:

"One fella thought I was the regular garbage man and accused me of stealing a barbecue grill last week."

"I told him, 'This is my first day on the job,' and he said, 'Okay, kid, but be sure and pick up the rubbish over there.'"

Jaffurs told him to take it up with the mayor.

Girlfriend Of Slain Fugitive Also Near Death From Duel

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A young North Carolina woman, caught in a police gun duel with her boyfriend Friday, remained near death here today — partially paralyzed with a pellet in her spine.

Linda Williams, 21, was reported in serious condition at Thomas Memorial Hospital, where she was taken following the street gun battle at nearby Dunbar.

She apparently was felled by the same police shotgun blast that killed Julius W. Haliburton, 23, a jail escapee from Wilkesboro, N. C.

North Carolina and Dunbar lawmen surrounded their small apartment and called for Haliburton to give himself up. But they said he replied: "You're going to have to kill me. I'm not going back."

After firing several shots at officers, police said Haliburton walked out with a gun pointed at Linda's head.

Acting Dunbar Police Chief Troy Massey said he shouted at Haliburton four times as he crossed the road with the woman. Massey recalled:

"He came over about 15 feet in front of me and at that time the woman jerked away from him (Haliburton) or fell, and he took the gun away from her head and pointed it at me. At that time some shots were fired."

An officer quoted the girl as saying then, "You've killed him, now kill me too."

Haliburton escaped July 9 from the Wilkes County Jail with another young man. They were being held in connection with the theft of $5,000 in appliances and guns.

Wilkes County authorities, on Haliburton's trail, arrived in Dunbar Friday morning, only a short time before the stakeout.

Ohioan, Instructor

MINDEN, Nev. (AP) — A Cessna single-engine plane from the Agricultural Aviation Academy here nosedived into a field east of Genoa, near Lake Tahoe's south shore, Friday and its two occupants — one from Ohio — were killed.

The academy said the victims were James Barton, 23, of Mentor, Ohio, who arrived for training in April, and Sydney Schwartz, 33, his instructor from Alameda, Calif. The plane evidently was in a practice stall when it went down, bouncing sideways some 30 yards.

DICK MURRAY

Now, doesn't that sound yummy?

And since syrup comes in many flavors nowadays, you could have a different flavor every night of the week.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: An easy and inexpensive way of cleaning black patent leather shoes is to put a bit of petroleum jelly on a facial tissue and rub it over the shoes.

But I have found this method does leave particles of paper fluff. For an extra - sharp shine (after cleaning the shoes) roll an old nylon stocking into a small ball and gently buff the shoes. Then watch that new gleaming finish appear.

A. P. EBERHARDT.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband refinishes furniture that I buy at public auctions.

He has found that emery boards are wonderful to get into the carved curlicues and other hard-to-get-at places on the furniture when removing the old finish.

Depending on the shape of the area to be reached, the emery board can be left as is (rounded), cut off to form a square or cut to a point.

It will also bend for sanding around small curved parts of the furniture (such as dresser knobs).

Works wonderfully and costs little.

Mayor Helps Haul Garbage In Walkout At Wilkinsburg

PITTSBURGH (AP) — His Honor Alexander J. Jaffurs, mayor of suburban Wilkinsburg, is picking up his constituents' garbage today.

Jaffurs and six other borough officials started digging into the community's mounting garbage Friday after the 20 regular refuse collectors went on strike for more money Thursday.

"We were determined to roll a couple of trucks," he said. After heaving burlap sacks of garbage for 13 hours, Jaffurs, 36, described his first day on the job as:

"Distasteful. Yale Law School was never like this."

Tired and dirty, Jaffurs leaned against a garbage truck and moaned.

"That's a lot of garbage. I'm tired. A lot of garbage was wet and every time we dumped it into burlap sacks, it would leak onto our clothes.

About the strikers' wage demands, he said:

"After today, I'm more disposed to consider their financial request."

Jaffurs, a lawyer, had other troubles making the rounds. He said one of his clients spotted him and remarked that his practice must be pretty bad.

"I felt like choking the guy," said His Honor. He added:

"One fella thought I was the regular garbage man and accused me of stealing a barbecue grill last week."

"I told him, 'This is my first day on the job,'" and he said, 'Okay, kid, but be sure and pick up the rubbish over there.'"

Jaffurs told him to take it up with the mayor.

Girlfriend Of Slain Fugitive Also Near Death From Duel

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A young North Carolina woman, caught in a police gun duel with her boyfriend Friday, remained near death here today — partially paralyzed with a pellet in her spine.

Linda Williams, 21, was reported in serious condition at Thomas Memorial Hospital, where she was taken following the street gun battle at nearby Dunbar.

She apparently was feigned by the same police shotgun blast that killed Julius W. Haliburton, 23, a jail escapee from Wilkesboro, N. C.

North Carolina and Dunbar lawmen surrounded their small apartment and called for Haliburton to give himself up. But they said he replied: "You're going to have to kill me. I'm not going back."

After firing several shots at officers, police said Haliburton walked out with a gun pointed at Linda's head.

Acting Dunbar Police Chief Troy Massey said he shouted at Haliburton four times as he crossed the road with the woman. Massey recalled:

"He came over about 15 feet in front of me and at that time the woman jerked away from him (Haliburton) or fell, and he took the gun away from her head and pointed it at me. At that time some shots were fired."

An officer quoted the girl as saying then, "You've killed him, now kill me too."

Haliburton escaped July 9 from the Wilkes County Jail with another young man. They were being held in connection with the theft of $5,000 in appliances and guns.

Wilkes County authorities on Haliburton's trail, arrived in Dunbar Friday morning, only a short time before the stakeout.

Ohioan, Instructor MINDEN, Nev. (AP)—A Cessna single-engine plane from the Agricultural Aviation Academy here nosedived into a field east of Genoa, near Lake Tahoe's south shore, Friday and its two occupants — one from Ohio — were killed.

The academy said the victims were James Barton, 23, of Mentor, Ohio, who arrived for training in April, and Sydney Schwartz, 33, his instructor from Alameda, Calif. The plane evidently was in a practice stall when it went down, bouncing sideways some 30 yards.

Junior Editors Quiz on PERSPECTIVE

QUESTION: How do artists make pictures in three dimensions?

ANSWER: When young people start to draw, they make objects as if they only went up and down or across. This way of drawing, in two dimension, is illustrated in our top picture. The dog, boy and house, are as flat as if cut out of paper. But as our artist grows up, he discovers that things go back as well; that there is another dimension, that of depth. He will use perspective, which means that things look smaller when further away even if they are actually the same size. The five bushes in front of the house may be the same size, but the nearer ones at bottom look much bigger; so do the nearer flagstones. Notice how the boy's left hand overlaps his body. This makes the hand come forward. By turning the house a little and using correct perspective, the artist, at bottom shows how both the front of a house and the end can be seen at once and made to look real.

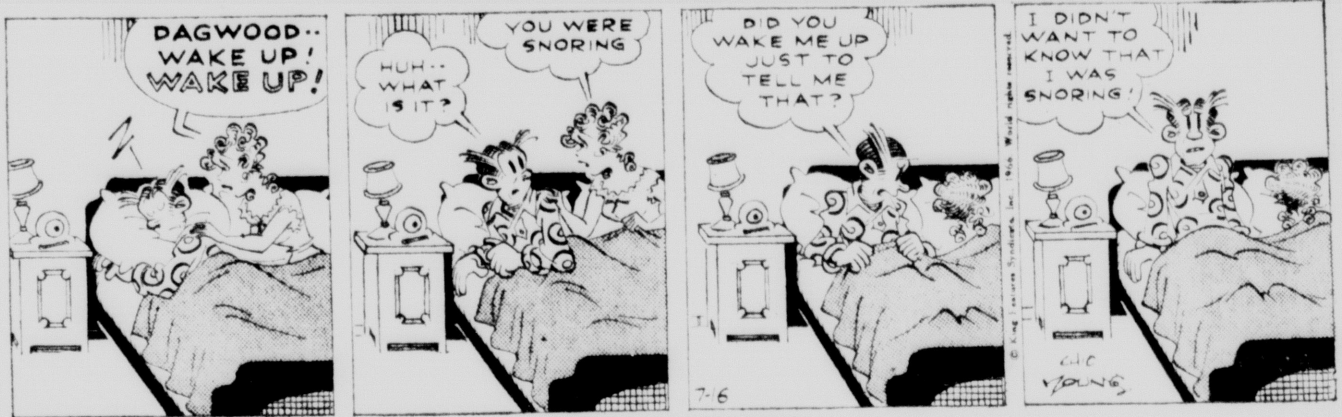

FOR YOU TO DO: We have mentioned perspective (things looking smaller) and overlapping. Check lower picture to find more examples of these depth principles.

Connie Carbaugh of Fayetteville, Pa., wins this week's grand prize of a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The review.

Promotion Made By H. K. Porter

PITTSBURGH — Robert C. Sernka has been appointed general manager of the Fabricated Metals Division of the H. K. Porter Co., Inc.

He replaces A. Leo Howell who, for personal reasons, has requested that he be relieved of responsibilities of vice president and general manager of the division. Howell will continue with Porter in another capacity.

Sernka joined Porter in January 1962 as assistant manager of the Alloy Metals Works. He was appointed works manager in September of the same year and became manager Fine Wire Operations of the Fabricated Metals Division in 1966, with full responsibilities of the Alloy Metals Works and the Prentiss Wire mills.

Milk Price Hike Set By Dairymen's Co-op

PITTSBURGH — Dairies in 13 Western Pennsylvania counties will have to pay about one cent per quart more beginning Monday for Class II milk purchased from the Dairymen's Co-operative Sales Association.

The co-op announced Friday a 45-cent per hundredweight hike in milk converted into ice cream, butter and other products.

Co-op Manager Homer Martz said the increase is intended to encourage local milk producers to sell in Western Pennsylvania, rather than Ohio and West Virginia where a federal milk marketing order recently raised prices.

LICENSE SUSPENSION

GIVEN HANCOCK CLUB

NEW CUMBERLAND — The beer license of the Tally Ho Club here has been suspended indefinitely by West Virginia Beer Commissioner G. T. (Red) Davis.

The suspension, effective next Monday, resulted from a hearing this week before Davis at Charleston.

Charges of exhibiting gambling equipment and possession and sale of liquor led to the action.

New Facility Use Nears At Weirton Steel

WEIRTON — A new continuous galvanizing line to produce coils of zinc-coated steel will soon go into operation at the Weirton Steel Division of the National Steel Corp., C. G. Tournay, president, has announced.

The new line has been under construction for about six months. It is located in the Sheet Mill Department and incorporates the latest technological improvements. Tournay said.

The company's hot-dipped zinc-coated steel — called Weir-kote — is highly rust-resistant and is used in auto and truck bodies, culvert stock, appliances, metal buildings, vending machines, office furniture, restaurant equipment, home furnaces, air-conditioning equipment and various types of containers.

This is the company's fifth continuous galvanizing line. It is 1,200 feet long and will coat coils of steel up to 48 inches wide and weighing 60,000 pounds. Speed of the line will be 450 feet a minute through the coating section, which is made possible by a recent coating control device developed at Weirton and patented by National Steel.

"The addition of this new facility is another step in the company's continuing effort to keep Weirton in the front line of competition and provide job security for its employees," Tournay pointed out.

Board Plans To Fill School Post Monday

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Education will meet Monday at 8:30 p.m. in the Courthouse to consider hiring a high school supervisor.

Urton Anderson, who now holds the position, will become coordinator of federal aid for the county school system, subject to the board's confirmation Monday.

James L. McBride, county superintendent, says there have been several applicants for supervisor. President Allan G. Chamberlin of Leetonia R. D. 2 will preside Monday.

Giant, $20-Million Machine Will Be Used In Coal Mining

A giant, $20-million mining machine which will make land reclamation more effective while lowering the cost of mining surface coal has been purchased by the American Electric Power System for use at its present mine in southeastern Ohio.

Donald C. Cook, AEP president, said the purchase of the "dragline," the largest such machine ever built, "is an invaluable step forward in our continuing twin programs of coal mining and land reclamation that began nearly 20 years ago."

Cook said the dragline will be employed at the surface mine operations of the Ohio Power Co., an AEP operating company. It will help to furnish fuel for a 615,000-kilowatt generating unit being added to Ohio Power's nearby 880,000-kilowatt Muskingum River plant. The mine loading area is located about four miles from the plant and both are near Beverly.

The 30-million-pound machine will be assembled at the mine, with operations scheduled for the fall of 1968. To be built by the Bucyrus-Erie Co. of Milwaukee, the dragline will have a 220-cubic-yard capacity "bucket" supported by a 300-foot-long boom. It represents the AEP System's largest single equipment purchase.

Cook pointed out that the dragline's bucket will move 325 tons of overburden, the earth covering coal seams, at one pass. By contrast, he said, the largest shovel now in use at the mine moves 60 tons at a time.

"With the new machine," Cook said, "we will be able to reach coal that has been inaccessible to our smaller equipment."

Promotion Made By H. K. Porter

PITTSBURGH — Robert C. Sernka has been appointed general manager of the Fabricated Metals Division of the H. K. Porter Co., Inc.

He replaces A. Leo Howell who, for personal reasons, has requested that he be relieved of responsibilities of vice president and general manager of the division. Howell will continue with Porter in another capacity.

Sernka joined Porter in January 1962 as assistant manager of the Alloy Metals Works. He was appointed works manager in September of the same year and became manager Fine Wire Operations of the Fabricated Metals Division in 1965, with full responsibilities of the Alloy Metals Works and the Prentiss Wire mills.

Milk Price Hike Set By Dairymen's Coop

PITTSBURGH — Dairies in 13 Western Pennsylvania counties will have to pay about one cent per quart more beginning Monday for Class II milk purchased from the Dairymen's Co-operative Sales Association.

The co-op announced Friday a 45-cent per hundredweight hike in milk converted into ice cream, butter and other products.

Co-op Manager Homer Martz said the increase is intended to encourage local milk producers to sell in Western Pennsylvania, rather than Ohio and West Virginia where a federal milk marketing order recently raised prices.
